

SORT YOUR MESS OUT!

A CRICKET club says its pitch is 'under siege' from irresponsible dog owners whose pets damage the playing surface and leave their mess on it.

The council owning the land has promised dog warden patrols to try and curb the problem with animal faeces, but says there is little else it can do.

Peter Anderson of Seaton Cricket Club said the club's three No Dogs signs were not only ignored, but one was defaced and another one stolen.

It is not clear who stole and defaced the signs, but the club responded by painting No Dogs signs on the tarmac leading up to the pitch, to no avail.

The problem is that the land is leased from East Devon District Council (EDDC) and is not covered by a dog ban.

When first contacting Pulman's View, Mr Anderson wrote: "At the end of my tether I am writing to express my disgust at irresponsible dog owners using the cricket field as their toilet ground.

"Together with a number of other volunteers we try to keep the place a fit and healthy environment for adults and children to play sport.

"The health hazards caused by dog faeces is well documented and it is totally unjustifiable to put dog health ahead of human health.

"In addition, dogs scratch up the surface making the outfield uneven. As well as causing extra work and cost to repair it has the potential to cause injury to players fielding a speeding ball which suddenly jumps up at them as it crosses uneven surfaces.

"Responsible dog owners must know who these selfish owners are. I appeal to them to name and shame them."

Mr Anderson is, among other things, the club groundsman and he says the problem has escalated.

He said: "It's been the worst I've known this year. We don't want dogs there at all."

Mr Anderson says the problem is especially big in the mornings between 6am and 8am, and added: "I've never seen a dog warden there."

When spotting irresponsible dog owners, Mr Anderson has been given the slip.

He explained: "I shout at them and they disappear, and I have lost the ability to run quickly."

When asked if the club had spoken to its landlord, EDDC, about the dog mess problem, he said: "No, we put up signs."

An EDDC spokesman told Pulman's View that early patrols would be organised, and added: "Seaton Cricket Field does not have any Dog Control Order in force, as this was not requested by Seaton Town Council when EDDC carried out its consultation.

"Our records show this land as leased from EDDC. There is no legislation to enforce the club's No Dogs signs.

"We could carry out patrols but all we could do is issue a Fixed Penalty Notice for dog fouling. We are unable to ask people to leave the field.

"We will arrange for an Environmental Health Officer to carry out some early patrols on this site.

"If the club do want to have a Dog Ban or Dogs on Leads Order on the field, they would need to get Seaton Town Council to do this for them, as EDDC will not be making any additional dog control orders."

Goose date is set at meeting

IT has been confirmed that this year's Colyford Goose Fayre will be held on Saturday, September 25th.

The date was confirmed during the fayre annual meeting on Friday, March 19th.

Treasurer David Horrill made recommendations in response to funding applications received from local organisations.

The meeting approved donations to St Michael's Chapel, Colyford; Axe Valley Community Police Cadets; Colyton Guide Association; Colyford Memorial Hall; Colyford Short Mat Bowls Club; Reece Strawbridge Youth Centre, Colyton; Holyford Woodland Trust and to Emma Franklin for her Girl Guides Centenary Project.

Chairman Colin Pady said that whilst the prime aim was for the event to strengthen the community it was also good to provide some support for local organisations.

Firefighters free seagull

FIREFIGHTERS from Seaton were called to help a seagull in distress.

The young gull had become trapped in netting near Jubilee Lodge, the Underfleet.

The incident took place just before 6pm on Monday, March 22nd.

A spokesman for the fire service said: "One fire appliance from Seaton attended. On arrival, the crew were able to rescue the bird via an upper floor window using small tools."

Jumble event raises £1,200

A JUMBLE sale held by the Seaton and Axmouth branch of Cancer Research UK at Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, March 13th raised £1,201.10.

Paula Vickers of Cancer Research UK said: "We'd like to say a huge thank you again to all of our loyal supporters and helpers."

"The 13th was definitely not an unlucky day for Cancer Research UK."

Table top sale

SEATON, Colyton and District Liberal Democrats are to stage a community fair and table top sale in Seaton Town Hall.

The event will take place from 10am until 12.30pm on Saturday, April 3rd.

Chamber fury over 'limited' questionnaire

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

ANTI-PAY and display parking campaigners in Seaton look set for a damage limitation exercise after council bosses said changes will be made.

Devon County Council (DCC) says that pay and display parking will be introduced one way or another, which is why a questionnaire only featured two tick box options.

As previously reported, opposition is rife in Seaton to introduce pay and display parking in the town centre as it is feared that traders will suffer.

DCC staged an exhibition on Monday, March 22nd for people who had made representations on the issue.

One of those attending was Marcus Hartnell, who is the chairman of Seaton and District Chamber of Commerce.

He described the event as having included "a positive conversation" but he had an issue with a questionnaire.

The questionnaire featured two options as to where pay and display could be introduced, but there was no box to tick for those being against pay and display full stop.

"The tick box exercise should have had three options," he said. A DCC spokesperson explained that the aim is to introduce pay and display in some form, which is why a third tick box was never an option.

The spokesperson added: "We are currently considering the feedback we received at the public exhibition."

"We will use this to determine the scheme that we will propose."

"In consultation with the local member and chair of the local Highways and Traffic Orders Committee (HATOC), we will formalise the proposals and advise the Traffic Regulation Order, during which time there will be a further opportunity for people to comment on the proposals.

"We have held open discussions with organisations and Seaton residents to identify areas where on-street pay and display parking could be implemented in the town. "Residents were also able to give further comments on the pay and display scheme as a whole on the response form and these comments will be considered."

The chamber is against pay and display introduction at this stage, saying things should be left as they are until the regeneration process of the town is complete, when the matter could be looked at again.

Farmer's arrest

A FARWAY farmer attempted a citizen's arrest when he discovered people trying to break into a farm building.

The incident happened at about 9.20pm on Tuesday, March 16th at a farm in the Farway area.

A police spokesperson said: "A farmer disturbed a number of people trying to break into an outbuilding on his farm in Farway.

"The offenders had removed a quantity of tools and equipment when they were disturbed.

"The farmer gave chase and managed to catch one offender who then assaulted him causing a minor injury.

"The police helicopter, dog handler and patrol officers attended the scene but unfortunately the offenders made good their escape.

"It was later discovered that a quad bike had also been stolen from a nearby farm. We are appealing for any witnesses to these crimes."

If you have any information, please call 08452 777 444 and refer to crime KN/10/93.

AXMINSTER police are investigating an alleged case of actual bodily harm involving a car.

Police were called to Stoney Lane, Axminster, at about 3.10pm on Wednesday, March 17th.

A member of the public had been stood in the street talking to the driver of another car when a blue Landrover allegedly "nudged" the aggrieved, who suffered visible injuries, according to police.

The nature of the injuries were not listed on the police log at the time of going to press, but police say the alleged victim named a suspect.

Inquiries are ongoing and police are treating the incident as actual bodily harm.

VILLAGE GREEN SPACE UNDER 'BUILD' THREAT

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

A GREEN space in the centre of an east Devon village could be lost if a controversial planning application is given the go ahead.

Strong's field in Chardstock, near Axminster, lies at the heart of a conservation area and is adjacent to at least two listed buildings.

An application has been put to East Devon District Council (EDDC) by Linda Cook, of Chard Street, Chardstock. The plan would see a four-bedroom house and garage erected at the site.

Residents of the village have reacted angrily to the proposals and a campaign has been started in an attempt to save the field.

A spokesman for Save Strong's Field said: "Strong's field is the last remaining green field within the centre of the village. The field contains a store for all the equipment used for Street Fayre. Strong's field is not just part of the rural scene it is also at the heart of the community.

"Once Strong's field is built on we lose this very special piece of land. This development will overshadow the traditional cottages along the main street.

"If you feel that developing this site would be wrong, speak up. If we do nothing then EDDC will think everyone is happy about it and may let it go ahead."

More than 26 residents have voiced their concerns to the EDDC planning department.

Michael Booth, of Woodcock Way, said he was objecting because he felt the design of the home was not in keeping with other properties in the village.

He said: "The application adds nothing to the village. The proposal is not affordable to local folk and is not likely to be occupied by people working within the village. It is likely to be yet another commuter development leading to increased traffic and consumption of resources with little or no return to the community."

Jaqueline Dadds, also of Woodcock Way, said: "The green space is an integral part of the village. Although it is in the centre of the village it was under agricultural use until recently so building these properties would represent a change of use and loss of agricultural land.

"During certain times of the year the space has a social use as well and building on the site would remove this village amenity."

Patricia Secrett, of Tytherleigh Court, added: "This particular area in the heart of the village, which is a conservation area, is already completely over developed. My cottage and its immediate neighbouring cottages were built in the 1800s and are already encroached upon both from above and behind. If this development goes ahead our charming local stone cottages would be completely surrounded and hemmed in by new properties."

An EDDC conservation officer has recommended refusal for the plans because of its appearance and impact on listed buildings in the vicinity.

Chardstock Parish Council has also recommended refusal.

A spokesman for the parish council said: "Flooding was the main concern as a considerable area of pasture land will be hard surfaced. Chardstock is suffering from flooding in so many places, this would be an added problem." The application is set to be decided by EDDC in the near future.

400-dwelling proposal on public view

PLANS for a massive development in Axminster went on public show last week.

Somewhere between 150 and 200 people took the opportunity to attend Axminster Guildhall to view Axminster Carpets' plans for up to 400 dwellings and a 10,000-12,000 sqft business centre plus open spaces, recreation facilities and allotments at Cloakham Lawn.

Forty per cent of the dwellings would be classed as "affordable" if the development goes ahead.

The proposal is far from a done deal, and must successfully negotiate two planning applications before any work can commence.

Last Thursday's exhibition was hosted CSJ

Planning Consultants, which acts as an agent for applicant and land owner Axminster Carpets.

In essence, the proposed development would be on the belt of land between Chard Road and the sporting facilities at Cloakham Lawn.

The whole process is at a very early stage and there are several issues likely to be subject to debate. The first step for the applicant would be to submit an application for outline planning permission, which determines if the type of development is acceptable in this specific location.

If the answer is yes, a more detailed application would then have to be submitted.

An environmental statement and technical reports would be part of the planning applications to cover anticipated hot potatoes like traffic to and from the site — both during construction and after completion.

■ WHAT do you think of the proposal? Let us know at pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk or write to: The Editor, Pulman's View, Tindle House, South Street, Axminster EX13 5AD. Police cuts?

EXCLUSIVE

SHOW, festival and other event organisers could face a financial blow if police withdraw officers from traffic management duties.

Devon and Cornwall Police are tight-lipped but admits it is about to commence negotiations with event organisers over traffic management.

A well-placed source with a solid background in show management has told Pulman's View that police will continue to manage the public order side of things, but will withdraw from traffic management duty.

If that happens, organisers would have to pay other organisations for traffic management, which would negatively affect the various events' contributions to charitable causes.

The source said: "We would have to get highways to come and cone and sign the event — or the AA, who do approved signage. But where are we going to find the people to stand in the road and direct traffic?"

"Police used to do it at no cost to the charities.

"Special constables used to do traffic management under the supervision of a senior officer. The extra cost to charities would be horrendous."

A Devon and Cornwall Police spokesman said: "We are currently in the process of commencing communications with local authorities and negotiations with event organisers over how traffic management at pre-planned events will be dealt with in the future."

It is not known how many events would be affected, but the source claims that Axe Vale Festival, Honiton Hill Rally, Honiton Show and The Grizzly Run would be among those affected.

When asked why negotiations will take place and what type of events require traffic management, the police spokesperson said: "At this stage we are not in a position to provide any more information."

NHS brands maternity cutback claims untrue

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

NHS Devon has slammed claims that maternity provision could end in Honiton, and in other community hospitals across Devon, calling them untrue.

In an open letter to parents and parents-to-be NHS Devon has hit back at campaigners who have been protesting against what they see as proposed cutbacks to in-patient post-natal care at Honiton Community Hospital.

A demonstration was taking place outside East Devon District Council (EDDC) headquarters in Sidmouth yesterday as this newspaper went to press.

Under the proposals, which look set to come into force from this Thursday, April 1st, many mums could be sent home from Honiton within hours of giving birth.

Honiton Town Council is planning to hold a meeting on Friday, April 16th. Representatives from NHS Devon have been invited to attend the meeting and will be asked to explain the reasons behind the proposed cutbacks at the maternity unit.

Vernon Whitlock, of Honiton Town Council, said: "Honiton is very proud of its community hospital and dedicated staff.

"We have previously fought successfully to retain the 24-hour minor injuries unit.

"The cutbacks to maternity services

◆ PROTESTORS demonstrate outside the EDDC offices in Sidmouth on Monday afternoon without any consultation with the town council or the local community, is totally unacceptable and we must call the decision-makers to account."

Thousands of people have signed up to a Facebook campaign against the plans and a recent petition-signing on Honiton High Street generated hundreds of signatures.

Jayne Carroll, NHS Devon's

director of strategic commissioning, said: "There's been a great deal said about maternity services in the past few weeks, not all of it accurate, and I wanted to explain the reason behind our proposals and provide reassurance.

"It has been claimed by some, that these proposals are about saving money — or that they could lead to the ending of the service altogether.

"This is categorically not true. It is not about saving money and it will not lead to the closure of any services.

"When we talk about increasing choice for mums-to-be, this is what we mean.

"What choice for mothers if their local maternity unit is closed or its usual service suspended?"

New green service

A NEW waste and recycling service has been introduced in Honiton and its surrounding villages.

The service rolled out last Wednesday, March 24th. It means recycling and food waste collections will be done on a weekly basis and landfill waste will be collected every two weeks.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) is behind the changes as it looks to increase its rate of recycling.

David Cox, EDDC's portfolio holder responsible for the waste and recycling service, said: "We know from experience that any major changes like this makes some people concerned and uncomfortable at first.

"That is why we have put a lot of effort into providing information leaflets and road-shows so people can find out what they need to know. If people keep the leaflets and read them carefully, things should go pretty smoothly.

"We all need to do as much as we can for the environment. It's vital that we reduce landfill and increase the number and volume of the materials that we recycle. Councils play a large part in this by collecting and processing the waste, but we can't do anything without the help and cooperation of our residents."

The new service has been rolled out across Honiton, Duneswell, Smeatharpe, Stockland, Dalwood, Northleigh, Southleigh, Farway, Payhembury, Awliscombe, Broadhembury and the areas in between.

For more information about the new service visit www.eastdevon.gov.uk/recycling_and_refuse or contact the StreetScene team on 01935 571 515.

A desperate plea for locals to Speak Now

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@indlenews.co.uk

AN almost complete dearth of panel members in Axminster is cause for concern among council chiefs.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) has set up Speak Now, which is a panel of district residents who want to be more actively involved in local issues.

Recruitment overall has gone very well with approximately 300 people on the register.

The towns in east Devon boast up to 20 members each, with the exception of Axminster where only one person has come forward.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "We are keen to make sure Axminster has a stronger voice."

"Residents can choose how much or little they want to get involved."

"Our engagement officer, Jamie Buckley, may invite them to take part in discussion groups, to fill in questionnaires or to come along to meetings of special interest groups."

"There is no pressure on them to attend everything they are invited to, but by getting involved they will have an opportunity to have their say on the issues which most interest and concern them."

The council's website is one example where panel members have been involved and listened to.

The spokesperson explained: "We wanted to find out if our website was providing the right kind of information, easily, to people who were visiting it so we invited members of the panel into our offices and asked them to find specific information on the site.

"As a result of their feedback, the website is being redesigned and, once the changes have been made, we will invite the same people back in to see if they can access the information they want more easily."

Potential panel members can find out more by phoning 01395 517 569, emailing speaknow@eastdevon.gov.uk or pick up a leaflet at Millway Rise Post Office, Axminster Tourist Information Centre or Axminster Library.

Bid for five more gypsy site pitches

A PLANNING application for permission to construct five transit pitches for gypsy families at Hawkwell Park, Hawkchurch, has been submitted to East Devon District Council (EDDC).

A similar application was submitted a few weeks ago, but deemed invalid because it lacked sufficient detail.

The application comes on top of one currently being dealt with for the removal of seasonal use conditions for excisiting transit pitches at the same site.

As revealed in Pulman's View,

March 16th issue, EDDC have liaised with the site owners since November last year regarding an expansion of the site.

A letter from EDDC officers, dated December 2nd 2009, encouraged the applicants to work with the council "not only to provide permanent pitches, but to assist this council in providing additional permanent pitches and possibly also transit pitches".

The application for five transit pitches will go through the planning process and EDDC will make a decision in due course.

BT bid to help improve village internet service

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findnews.co.uk

BT has said it will improve broadband services in West Hill if tests prove feasible to replace an outdated cable, according to a local councillor.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Claire Wright, Ottery St Mary town councillor for West Hill, has been pressing BT for improved broadband speeds in the Woodland Village.

Bob Challacombe, BT Openreach director for the Midlands, Wales and West, held a meeting with Ottery councillors on Friday, March 19th, and has pledged to help.

Mr Challacombe said: "We really want to help. Broadband speed demands will continue to rise as demands on computer applications increase. Frequent service interruptions are not acceptable and we will do all we can to rectify this, as a priority."

"The cost of cable replacement disruption could well be significant and Openreach will do all that it can to minimise impact. The duration of the work would take several months as the current infrastructure to West Hill is almost at maximum capacity."

"The proposed works would certainly provide residents with an increase in speed but more importantly give a much more reliable service."

Councillor Wright added: "It is brilliant news that BT hopes to invest in West Hill in this way. I have been inundated with emails from people who have had difficulties with slow speeds under one megabit or who are disconnected for long periods, it is very frustrating for them."

"We would like to thank Mr Challacombe for his time and his obvious desire to help West Hill. We now look forward to hearing the result of investigations and hope for a positive outcome."

No rail traffic if four-day planned strike goes ahead

THERE will be no rail traffic through Axminster and Honiton if the announced strike goes ahead as planned.

The dispute involves unions and Network Rail — and will badly affect rail traffic throughout the UK.

South West Trains (SWT) said on Friday, March 26th that it will not run any trains in any direction between Salisbury and Exeter on April 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th.

Instead "some rail replacement bus services will operate" on the route.

A timetable was not issued at the time and precise details will be announced in due course.

Further up the line from Honiton and Axminster, there will be a service once an hour in both directions between Salisbury and London Waterloo between 7am and 7pm.

A SWT spokesperson said: "Full details of revised services will be made available as soon as possible on the South West Trains website at www.southwesttrains.co.uk."

SWT MD Andy Pitt added: "We are very disappointed that our customers will be inconvenienced as a result of this industrial action."

"While the rail network will remain open, we will be operating a vastly reduced service and the trains that do run are expected to be extremely busy."

"As such, passengers will be severely impacted in their travel plans and are advised to check for the latest information prior to travelling, seek alternative means of travel where possible and to allow additional time for their journey."

Combined rugby and beer event for charity

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A FORMER serviceman is to stage a combined beer festival and charity rugby match in Honiton.

Richard Terry, who lives in Honiton, is running the event on Sunday, April 4th in aid of Help for Heroes.

Mr Terry said: "Their work is to raise money to support members of the Armed Forces who have been wounded in the service of their country."

"This organisation is very close to my heart as I am an ex-serviceman and have lost friends through combat, but also thanks to this charity, some of my friends have been saved too."

"The match will be between a Help for Heroes select 15 consisting of Armed Forces personnel past and present, and a Honiton RFC select 15."

The match will be played at Honiton Rugby Club, with kick-off at 2pm, but the event itself will open at mid-day.

There will be a bouncy castle and events throughout the day including a children's military fancy dress competition at 1pm, a tug of war competition at 4pm, and evening entertainment with Sweet Black Angels acoustic at 5pm and Chris Stuckey and his band at 8pm.

Mr Terry added: "There will be an auction in the afternoon with TV auctioneer Graham Barton."

"The lots include a signed Leicester Tigers rugby shirt from the squad which included Martin Johnson, limited edition signed military prints, signed Lawrence Dallaglio books, a visit for two people to Supacat to see the facilities and drive a jackal ATV around the test track — subject to MOD clearance."

"We also have 20 local ales and cider and food available all day."

Nurse starts singing club

AN entertainer and nurse is to set up a singing club in Axminster.

Peter Smart is a former Redcoat and Bluecoat who moved to Axminster with wife Linda about three-and-a-half years ago.

He started in showbiz in the late 1970s and has also toured the pub circuit under the stage name of Daley Knight.

In 1992 he changed direction and trained to become a nurse in Wolverhampton before finding work at Walsall Manor Hospital.

He has since retired and decided to combine his skills by setting up the club, which has been named Sing-A-Long Club and members will meet in The Methodist Church hall, Axminster.

Peter tours care homes in the area to provide entertainment on a regular basis.

When asked why he is setting up a singing club, he said: "You see on TV that clubs and places for older people are closing down, so I thought it would be a good idea to start something up for elderly people to get together."

"Join in or just enjoy the songs from Vera Lynn, Gracie Fields to Nat King Cole, Dean Martin."

The first meeting will be from 2.30pm-4pm on Tuesday, April 27th and members will initially get together on a monthly basis.

Peter said: "I was going to make it weekly, but decided to go monthly and see how it goes."

There will be a charge of £3 per person, per session to cover hall hire and refreshments.

There will be no charge for carers accompanying a member, but it is stressed that carers will need to remain with the person they are caring for throughout the session.

To gauge interest and calculate the amount of refreshments needed, Peter asks those aiming to attend to call him beforehand if at all possible.

He can be contacted on 01297 35144 or 07717 534871.

New venue for drop-ins

HONITON Methodist Church is the new venue for Age Concern Devon's weekly drop-in session in the town.

Sessions run from 2pm until 4pm every Friday.

Refreshments, games and activities are all available. Speakers will also attend the weekly meeting.

Entry costs £1 per person.

There is no session on Good Friday, April 2nd.

Pugwash is a mystery...

A COFFEE morning in aid of Samaritans is to be held in Axminster on Saturday, April 3rd.

The event runs from 9.30am-12noon at 27 Fosseyway Close by kind permission of the Halls.

Promotion material for the coffee morning says that visitors can meet Pugwash.

Douglas Hull, who is hosting the event, would only say: "Pugwash has four feet."

WI opens up

ALL Saints and District Women's Institute will be holding an open meeting on Tuesday, April 6th.

The meeting will take place at All Saints Village Hall from 7.30pm.

A talk about the wildlife of the Exe Valley will be given by Rod Lawrence.

Admission to the meeting is £2.

◆ 16-year-old Conon Carter

Bike shuttle's fast cash

A 16-YEAR-OLD'S bicycle shuttle between Whitford and Musbury is on course to raise in the region of £170 for Sport Relief.

Conon Carter clocked up 100 miles when cycling back and forth between the two villages over four days.

He put in his first shift on Thursday, March 18th, had a break on the Friday because of bad weather — but was at it again on the following Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Conon attends Honiton Community College and cycled in his spare time.

He is still collecting sponsorship and the total amount is expected to be about £170.

Conon and his dad, Mark, jointly said: "We would like to thank Soane Cycles, of Colyton, and all the people who sponsored the bike ride."

Support for Fair trading

TRINITY House Coffee Shop in Axminster pledged its support to Fairtrade Fortnight by offering customers Fairtrade coffee and tea.

"I believe that it is important to recognise and support the producers of these commodities wherever possible", said Mike Spellar, coffee shop manager.

The department store has also expanded its ethical range of clothing by offering garments from The Earth Collection.

According to Trinity House, the philosophy behind The Earth Collection is "respect for the environment we live in, and for the people we work with". Many of the workers are home-based in the Philippines which brings much needed income to poor villages. Any surplus material is recycled and reused.

Couple buy village pub

AN acclaimed east Devon inn, in the small village of Stockland, near Honiton, has been sold through the Exeter office of licensed property agents, Christie and Co.

Jon Clyne, of Christie and Co, said: "The sale of The Kings Arms offered an exceptional opportunity to acquire a food-led country inn with letting accommodation in a superb part of east Devon, for which we had much interest.

"The new purchasers, Phil and Debbie Rees, are looking to revamp the menu while undertaking a comprehensive refurbishment programme." The sales figure was not announced.

Every's staff make Sport Relief effort

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@indlenews.co.uk

A MIXTURE of lawyers and administrative staff from Every's Solicitors turned out for the company in the recent Sport Relief run in Honiton.

The 10-strong Every's team was made up of staff from branches across Devon, including the Honiton site.

Jo Wright, the company's marketing and events executive, said: "The team did really well.

"One person couldn't make it on the day due to illness, so we had 10 runners in total.

"All 10 finished, but they were running different distances — one, three and six miles.

"Most of our six mile runners were training for the Great West Run and all finished within the hour, with Rachel Hennessey completing the course in a great time and coming in as the first Every's staff member and second female overall.

"Money is still being collected but we are fairly confident that we have reached our £500 target."

The runners were: One Mile — Stephen Martin.

Three Miles — Jane Skinner, Claire Revell, Robert Scott, Ali Jessop.

Six Miles — Rachel Hennessey, James Armstrong, Stuart Mackay, Danielle Wall, Chris Lake.

"To our knowledge this is the first discount card that has been launched in the area and anyone wishing to obtain theirs can do so by getting a membership form from Panic Design in Fore Street or Foley's Four C's fish restaurant in Harbour Road."

The 12 outlets are Seaton Tramway, Foleys 4C's, Tower Services, Bag End Bags, Animal Botanical, Seaview Curios, Temptations, Panic Design, GW Meats, Osbornes Men's Shop in Beer, Just Hair, Daniel and Alexander.

Support this new proposal

EDITOR — What a wonderful surprise to pick up Pulman's View from Seaton on a sunny Tuesday morning and read that there are plans to extend our already natural nature reserve.

Such good news that something is to be done to enhance Seaton and the countryside and not read of the totally commercial projects that are planned on the flood plain.

Quoting from my friend Janet Lang's letter in your paper; "the result of this project is that visitors will leave the area and go elsewhere".

But if they can enjoy the peace of the extended nature reserve, the peace of the cemetery, the songs of the birds, the use of a small carpark and possibly a small toilet, new bird hides and access paths they can turn a blind eye to those derelict acres on their approach to Seaton and venture further into our Seaton countryside.

Please let us all support this proposal and may it take place soon.

EDITOR — I agree wholeheartedly with Sandra Semple in the Pulman's View letters page from March 15th.

Who will start common sense trend in the UK?

EDITOR — I wonder if the day will ever come when councils' and large organisations' only ability to make their business work, and become profitable, is to rely simply on the public or customers unable to change their daily environment and who are tied to these parasites through no fault of their own.

For far too long governments have given into councils who have been incompetent when managing the budgets entrusted to them by us tax payers with the ever open purse on an annual basis.

An abundance of years with spineless management which has allowed political correctness and the Human Rights Brigade to misuse and abuse, so as to take over common sense.

Good management should consist of budget-making that works, having the guts to sack those who will not work in accordance to their ability, and not allowing cutbacks on essential services to save money.

Add to this the stupidity of overstaffing, overpaying management and making sure that the left hand does not know what the right hand is doing — why should they?

The council tax payers are available to stick their hands in their pockets on an annual basis.

Who, therefore, needs good management skills in the public sector?

I have no doubt that most councils have not the skilled ability to use and make a budget wisely when the option of overspend is an annual increase to which the governments of past and present have allowed incompetence to rule in these councils.

Then again when we have had governments who are themselves privy to open budgets, perks and legal fiddles, is it any wonder the country is in the mire?

Business leaders themselves state that despite some areas of excellence and good collaborative initiatives, the majority of public procurement spending is so fragmented that huge potential savings are being missed every year.

If multi-national companies operated on a similar pattern they would have gone out of business years ago.

When will this government or any government of consequence have the spine to insist that all increases are only allowed when the services that are offered are better value?

This includes all management, shareholders and public organisations that delight in making obnoxious profits out of the public who are tax payers when they themselves are legally allowed to pay as little tax as possible.

They spend other peoples hard earned money and use pathetic reasoning to justify what they do.

Quite frankly these parasites are making the UK into a Banana Republic with the legal fiddles being made priority number one.

Is it not time we changed our direction and stop the trend of Rip Off Britain?

What political party has the spine to start the trend of common sense in the UK and make sure the Human Rights Brigade are not used for abuse and profit, together with those who are ruining this country with daily abuse of common sense and interpretation?

You can help town's shops

EDITOR — Do you know what you can do to help local shops today? You can make a difference!

Your patronage of any locally owned independent business does big things for Seaton from impacting the local economy to enhancing its character and appeal.

As consumers you have the power to shape our town. Isn't that an amazing thought?

Every time you open your wallets to a business you are saying I like what you do, keep doing it.

When you shop locally your are saying yes to a strong vibrant local economy that translates into a unique and interesting town.

It's up to all of us to make Seaton better. So please continue to support local businesses. Why not start today?

More questions about new unit

EDITOR — What an interesting article on the front page of the Pulman's View from Seaton (March 23rd edition).

As a business owner and resident of Seaton I have some questions.

This is the first stage — what are the following stages going to include?

Maybe housing? It is somewhat interesting to see that Barkley Park Ltd, Barkley Park Axminster Ltd, Barkley Park Cedar Ltd and Barkley Park Weymouth Ltd are all registered to an address in Colyton.

Barkley Park Homes Ltd is registered to an address in Shute and appear to have a history of house building.

Secondly, who are the business leaders and local groups — apart from the Seaton Development Trust — in Seaton who are behind this scheme?

The Chamber of Commerce is totally unaware of it.

Wasn't there a similar scheme proposed for Axminster which also included housing?

Finally, where in the private sector is £9million coming from?

The only feasible answer is house sales.

Forced to put pen to paper over state of bickering town

EDITOR — Every week I read the Pulman's View and find myself thinking Seaton is full of sad people with nothing better to do with their time than to write to the papers.

Slowly over the past month I've become angry and annoyed to the extent I have had to put pen to paper myself.

Each morning and evening I walk past the old primary school in Fore Street, Seaton — for those new to the town, that's the old stone building on the corner of St Clare's Close.

It is a lovely old building which must have been built in the early 1900s and is owned by Devon County Council.

Since Christmas the building has been refurbished. The roof has been replaced with new black slate tiles which are not in keeping with the building.

Today I see the old wooden windows have been replaced by modern PVC windows. I have not seen planning permission for this work to be carried out, perhaps DCC do not need such permission, or are there rules for them and other rules for the rest of us?

We know Seaton Town Council and East Devon District Council do not like replacing wooden frames with PVC as they say it is not in keeping with the area.

Ask the lady who owns Green Dragon, who has had to close her shop and board up the windows.

It is a sad state of affairs when a shop which is boarded up is more in keeping with the rest of the town.

But for a few years, I have lived in Seaton all my life and have never known it look as empty as it does now.

When Stand Up For Seaton got elected to the town council they promised us lots but all they have done is to turn Seaton into a ghost town.

I think it is time the Stand Up For Seaton members of the council stood up and let some others have a go.

We seem to have lots of groups all bickering and arguing over what's best for Seaton, I feel they should all get together as one united group and fight for this once great town.

If not, would the last person to leave Seaton please close the gates on the seafront and turn the lights off.

Well done on organising relief mile

EDITOR — As president of Honiton Running Club I would just like to say how proud I am of the club's effort in making the Sport Relief run a really good event for the town.

Many of the club's members made a real commitment to the day so that it could be enjoyed as safely as possible, any event such as this takes a lot of dedication and planning.

The club is a real asset to the town, as well as a strong senior section the club has a thriving junior section guiding young people to achieve with self discipline, at the same time enhancing their self esteem, something that will stay with them for the rest of their lives.

Well done to all.

Plan approval for complex?

EDITOR — The Beehive Honiton Community Complex. It is impossible to believe a planning authority will approve a planning application for constructing this building that lacks measures to combat global warming.

It is further impossible to believe a bank manager would authorise funds for constructing this complex having previously studied the contents of the recently published plan.

Furthermore, the town council has placed itself in a difficult position as the applicant of the required planning application.

The council has thereby abandoned its duty to act as the consultee on local planning applications.

East Devon District Council, as the planning authority, has also put itself in a difficult position by previously pledging financial support for the community complex.

Taxpayers of east Devon thus need to be warned that there are plans to further subsidise costs of the project, the business plan for which lacks definition of revenue flows.

The viability of the Beehive Honiton Community Complex business plan thus needs to be demonstrated beyond question.

Development will put strain on facilities

EDITOR — In response to the Pulman's View article on page 4 of the March 23rd edition.

I live on Chard Road and I think the Axminster Carpets housing development is going to put a very large strain on the doctors' surgery and on the schools as they are already full to the rafters.

There are waiting lists at the local playgroups and not only that, what about all the extra traffic coming down Chard Road?

It is a nightmare.

The speeds of the cars are above 30mph and they don't stop at the zebra crossing.

That is a death trap.

Why do Axminster Carpets want to build houses? I thought they made carpets.

I am not in favour of this new build on what could be the only green belt area left in Axminster.

I believe that there are other places that could be built on first as there are plenty of disused factories, waste ground or even brown sites.

I also believe that Axminster Carpets have other schemes ready to put to planning once this goes ahead.

I think that Axminster Carpets have bitten off more than they can chew.

My personal view is that the carpet factory is not doing well and they have decided to build houses or new units on that site.

Loo award: no such thing as bad publicity for town?

EDITOR — I can't help but smile at the recently installed certificate — Loo Of The Year Award for 2010 — which has been given to Seaton's controversial west walk toilet block.

Is this real or a tongue in cheek reflection that just like Katie Price — any publicity is good?

In the real world us Seaton local council tax payers realise that no member of the public nominated these toilets for an award, but it is the commercial stamp of approval by various tourist boards and the makers of the hand dryers.

In recent history this toilet block has been more costly to maintain than any other in the town.

It is a sad reflection that public loos need to be closed at night, but these new loos will not stop vandalism.

These loos were the subject of regular vandalism with youths walking on the roof and breaking tiles despite witnesses who were too scared to challenge anyone.

Already those vulnerable doors have required virtually daily maintenance and repair, most people struggle to understand if one is vacant or engaged.

They have been exposed to winter storms, plus their invitation to vandalise, means constant and expensive maintenance or shabby unusable doors within weeks if EDDC staff numbers are reduced.

And the showers could be entertaining when our regular visiting vagrants not only have benches to sleep on but 24-hour access to showering facilities.

Could the community police officers arrest anyone for showering naked in public, probably not if the showers are provided for public use?

My point is that despite the bad publicity commercial business will benefit from controversial EDDC planning decisions.

How many noticed the provocative Tesco helping the local community banners at the recent Grizzly run?

I bet in 10 years' time Tesco will nationally and proudly state that until they came to Seaton there was no town, seaside or Jurassic Coast, only locals will know the truth.

Hopefully common sense will prevail

EDITOR — I was so glad to read that Axminster Carpets proposed development is far from a done deal. Hopefully common sense will prevail and it won't happen.

The Wain Homes site on the other side of the road still has several years of building left to do.

Has anyone noticed that all the roads there slope down towards the river that flows through the valley at the bottom?

The experts say we are in for wetter winters — more rain.

Where does it all go? Down the slopes into the river.

Now they think it's a good idea to build on the other side of the road as well.

Resulting in flooding.

To say nothing of the fact that they would be destroying forever fields of well run farmland.

The reason why this must not happen go on and on.

Traffic, school classes already larger than government guidelines, traffic.

Where is the new surgery going?

We'll need one to cope with all these new people, traffic, the drainage system and — oh yes — the traffic.

Tories fail on road promise

EDITOR — Last year the county council, then run by the Liberal Democrats, was heavily criticised by the Conservatives over the state of Devon's roads following the hard winter.

Indeed during the subsequent election campaign they wrote "Potholes continue to blight our lanes. [Conservatives] will work to find a better solution to keep them under control."

Well the Tories won a majority in that election so the voters might have assumed that even more money would be spent, and by now the roads would be as smooth as the runway at Heathrow airport.

Unfortunately what has in fact happened is that less money is being spent, with nearly £300,000 chopped off the relevant budget line.

Would an incoming Conservative government's promises last any longer?

Utter madness

EDITOR — What utter madness. A huge Tesco lorry delivering a single online order to someone living directly opposite one of our ever-open village shops.

This is not an anti-Tesco or pro-Spar rant it's an appeal for sanity to save our lanes from destruction, the planet from diesel fumes and unnecessary lorry traffic but most of all an appeal to save our community and our rural way of life.

And it might just prompt our lazy friend to get a bit of exercise walking the 20 yards across the road.

KATE ERIN MEW

Back to pre-school

YOU know that feeling when someone asks you to do something you are really not keen on, but you can't think of a good reason not to in time?

Well, that's exactly what happened to me recently.

There I was sitting comfortably in my editor's chair at the Pulman's View office in Axminster when I got a call from Karen Chapman, of McKinlay's estate agents, in the town.

I should have been more prepared when she warned me she had a favour to ask me, but I wasn't.

Would I go and spend a morning at Shute Little Acorns Pre-school and write my column on it to help promote the essential but widely unknown facility?

Caught completely on the hop, my answer went something along the lines of, "Umm, well, umm, actually Karen, I'm not very good with kids... I'm better with horses!"

"Oh, you'll be fine," she dismissed. "When can you go, I'll organise it all." And, before I knew what had happened, I was walking up the hill past the idyllic church at Shute, ready for my 'first day' at pre-school.

To say I was nervous was an understatement. I'm fine with adults but I was feeling very anxious about the small people. Ridiculous, I appreciate, but true nevertheless.

As I walked through the gates, it felt strange to know that My Lovely Farmer had once run round that very same playground as a child when he attended the primary school.

Having never set foot in the school before, my first impressions were good. The playground was full of different things aimed at keeping the children occupied and challenged and it all looked exceptionally neat and tidy.

I was met at the door and introduced to pre-school leader Amanda Churchill-Deam who welcomed me into the 'play area' where everything was in miniature — Alice in Wonderland-style. I met some children and had a chat with Amanda, who was in her second year as leader.

As she told me about the pre-school and showed me around I was impressed by her obvious pride and enthusiasm, which was infectious.

The pre-school, standing alone from Shute Primary School which has a very good name locally, is little known to the wider community. It is small with a leader and two assistants which means the child-adult ratio is very good and children get lots of one-to-one time because of it.

And its small size certainly doesn't mean it is not busy — far from it in fact. These youngsters, from two-and-a-half up to rising five, get to do all sorts of stuff to keep them entertained and learning.

They have regular visits to The Donkey Sanctuary at Sidmouth, a trip to Miller's Farm Shop in Kilmington to learn about how fruit and vegetables are grown, they recently went to one of the children's homes to groom some horses, the local vicar pops in for singing and storytime, they have football training and yoga... to name a few!

A recent project was a 'gingerbread man postcard initiative' which helped the little ones learn about travel.

Amanda said: "We are very community-minded but the gingerbread man was to show the children that there is a big, wide world out there too."

What with the butterfly garden, wormery and a play dough session, I almost didn't want to leave. I admit, with my limited knowledge of pre-schools, I didn't realise there could be so much more going on than just colouring.

The small people there were clearly enthralled in everything that was going on, they were polite and behaved excellently — which must say something.

This place is a little-known gem and should be praised very highly. Most kids who go tend to go up to Shute Primary School, but it is not compulsory.

And I survived it too. It wasn't at all what I expected, which was a lot of screaming three-year-olds wiping their noses on me. It was in fact serene and pleasant and fun, although it was good to get back to the office and sit in a grown-up-sized chair again.

Waterways handover bid

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

IN an attempt to combat future flooding problems in Ottery St Mary, East Devon District Council (EDDC) has recommended approval to hand over responsibility for waterways that run through the town to the Environment Agency.

The idea is set to go before the EDDC executive committee at a meeting tomorrow night (Wednesday, March 31st). If it is given the go ahead main river status would be given to the Thorne Farm stream and a section of the Furzebrook that is not currently classed as a main river.

In October 2008 torrential rain and a freak hail storm lashed down on Ottery. All the waterways in the town, and rivers surrounding Ottery, burst their banks adding to the chaos.

As a result, more than 200 properties were flooded and the town became cut off by flood water. Two cars were swept into the Furzebrook and more than £1million worth of damage was caused.

Roger Giles, town, district and county councillor for Ottery, said handing over responsibility to the Environment Agency would help minimise flood risk in Ottery.

He said: "I am delighted that yet another action will minimise the flood risk of people living in places such as the Thorne Farm estate in Ottery.

"I very much hope, that as a result of several flood prevention measures, that for very many concerned people in Ottery and other nearby flood hit communities, the days of anxiety whenever there is heavy rainfall are a thing of the past."

However, the Environment Agency is asking for a payment of £90,000, split over two years, to take on the responsibility for the waterways. This could prove to be a stumbling block and on the agenda for Wednesday night's meeting it states that EDDC currently has no monies available to pay the sum.

A spokesman for EDDC added: "Following the 2008 floods in the Otter catchment area, the Environment Agency has written to inform EDDC that they would be prepared to enmain four ordinary watercourses in east Devon.

"These watercourses are the Thorne Farm stream, River Tale, Rockbeare stream and Marsh Green stream.

"The Environment Agency requests a contribution to future maintenance, due to the financial liability that will pass from EDDC to the Environment Agency. Discussions have been held with the Environment Agency regarding the sum and they are prepared to accept a commuted sum of £45,000 a year over the next two financial years, a grand total of £90,000.

"Enmainment would transfer the relevant powers to address flooding from the district council to the Environment Agency."

Historical talk of carpet firm

THE March monthly meeting of Seaton Women's Institute was well attended.

The speaker was Mr Hitchcock who gave members an informed history of Axminster Carpets.

This journey started back in 1755 when a weaver of cloth adapted his looms for carpet making.

The group were reminded that Colyton at the time was a huge centre for wool. Cotton and jute were also required but had to be imported.

Over the next 235 years however, the company suffered mixed fortunes.

The original factory was destroyed by fire and in 1836 Axminster Carpets suffered bankruptcy.

The company was re-established in 1936 and after WWII enjoyed the boom years of the fitted carpet.

In recent times the Axminster Carpet Factory designed and produced an octagonal carpet for St Georges Hall, Windsor Castle, using computer technology.

A lot of their business today is contract work for hotels, banks and commercial buildings.

The members thanked Mr Hitchcock for an interesting afternoon.

At the end of March, three Seaton members are to attend the WI Denman College for weekend courses.

Sadly another member, Marjorie Gaut, passed away recently. Her cheery smile will be missed by all.

The next meeting is on Tuesday, April 20th at 2.15pm in Seaton Methodist Church Hall. The speaker's subject will be Chiropractic and General Health.

Hearing dog's devotion at women's monthly meeting

AT the March meeting of the Royal British Legion Women's Section, Axminster, members welcomed guest speaker Wayne Hurren and his hearing dog, Donna.

In 1979 vet Bruce Fogle — father of Ben Fogle, the TV presenter — learnt how an American hearing dog scheme was to be set up and this inspired him, with advice and assistance from The Royal National Institute for the Deaf to devise a similar scheme in the UK.

With financial commitments from an animal charity, Pedigree pet foods, the Daily Mail, Pebble Mill and other companies, the charity — named Hearing Dogs for the Deaf — was launched at Crufts Dog Show in 1982, under the auspices of the RNID.

The charity is known today as Hearing Dogs for Deaf People and over 1,000 dogs have been trained since their first dog, Favour, a one-year old stray from the National Canine Defence League — now known as Dogs Trust.

The charity received 15,000 applications for help last year alone and bearing in mind the cost of training a dog is £5,000, this cost includes support throughout its working life, the demand far exceeds the supply.

Hearing dogs change the lives of their deaf owners by providing greater independence, confidence and security.

Many people also suffer from other disabilities, which greatly restricts their independence.

Around 75 per cent of all dogs selected for training come from rescue centres, so the lives of many unwanted puppies are transformed too.

Dogs can be up to three-years-old and are generally small or medium sized with most breeds, crossbreeds or mongrels being suitable for training.

Those not suitable come under the heading of guarding breeds, for example German Shepherds, bull terriers, or dogs with a strong tendency to chase.

In addition dogs are also donated by breeders and members of the public.

Training is comprehensive and dogs are taught to wake their owners in the morning, alert them to door bells ringing and telephones, and smoke alarms.

Watching Donna respond to Wayne's hand signals and commands and how devoted they are to each other made the group realise how vital is the work of this charity and the importance of fund raising to assist other deaf people who desperately needing an assistance dog.

The members thanked Wayne for such an instructive and entertaining talk.

The next meeting will be on Monday, April 12th at 7.30pm in the Church Rooms, when the speaker will be Roz Hudson on the subject Village Life.

Birds delight society group

AT the February meeting of the Axminster Horticultural Society members saw the welcome return of Dr Gavin Haig.

He delighted everyone with his amusing talk encompassing everything including massive trees, hedgerows, butterflies, wild flowers, habitats, irrigation and some truly remarkable kingfisher and other bird slides.

The show also took a novel format with the chairwoman Anne Ross taking on the roll of stooge in what can only be described as a spoof of the Dr Doolittle film.

However, instead of merely talking to the animals Anne appeared to be capable of chatting to and calling down the birds.

With the aid of slides the group was then taken on a virtual tour of Dr Haig's four-acre riverside garden near Tiverton and the many varied areas encompassing regions of shrubs or grassland.

There were nest boxes everywhere and a most memorable slide was a picture of a tiny dormouse on a background of ripe blackberries.

We were also told that some of the birds, such as a pied flycatcher, had been ringed showing they migrated some 100,000 miles in a round trip - extraordinary!

All the slides showed the sheer diversity and beauty of the natural world around us. There was even an accompanying bird song of the nightingale.

The next meeting of the Horticultural Society will be on Wednesday, April 21st when Mr Carlson will give his talk on hanging baskets.

Forum inspired to start Memory Cafe

A MEETING of the Axminster Seniors' Forum was held on Monday, March 8th when David Light gave a talk on setting up a Memory Cafe.

He has been dedicated to setting up Memory Cafes since his wife became diagnosed with dementia.

He explained what was involved and how someone should be a co-ordinator. The role they played was to organise the room that the cafe was to be held in, when it should be run and generally be head of the local organisation.

Other volunteers would be there to meet and greet, make tea and coffee, be on hand to listen having been given training in dementia awareness.

He explained that a Memory Cafe was for people with dementia, Alzheimer's being one form.

The cafe was a lifeline to many carers who could take along the person they were caring for and meet other people who were in the same sort of situation, being able to relax and talk to others who understood.

People who were worried that they might be experiencing signs of dementia could also go along and talk to someone trained to deal with it and get advice on what to do.

Leaflets and information would be available on various subjects.

After the talk members felt that there was a need for a Memory Cafe in Axminster and David Light promised to help start things off by organising a meeting with others who would need to be involved with the cafe.

If you would be interested in becoming involved with a Memory

Cafe call 01297 35838 and leave your details.

Ann and Ken Crawford who are part of the Senior Council for Devon supported David Light by explaining how funding was achieved and raised.

They were both involved in the setting up of Memory Cafes around Devon.

The next meeting of the Axminster Seniors' Forum will be on Monday, April 12th at the Church Room off Church Street, Axminster, at 2pm when the speaker will be from Hearing Dogs for the Deaf.

Flea control injection for your Cat
* * * HALF PRICE * * *
during April

An injectable flea control product is available for cats. It contains an insect growth regulator which prevents fleas from being able to lay viable eggs around your home for a full six months. When a cat is treated with an injectable insect growth regulator, it circulates in the animal's bloodstream. Then, if a flea bites the cat (which it will), it ingests the insect growth regulator and passes it on to its eggs, rendering them unable to hatch. With this product, you can have confidence that even if you do see adult fleas on your cat, they will be unable to infest your house with flea eggs. This removes the need to spray insecticides around your house, and makes the product ideally suited for preventative flea control. In fact, injectable insect growth regulators can also be used to eliminate an existing household infestation. In this case, once you start treating the pet, any fleas already in the house will hatch, leap aboard the pet, and die without laying any more viable eggs. This product is available from veterinary surgeons only. Call to book your appointment today.

Protect your Rabbit from Flystrike Free product application*

Fly strike, or blowfly strike, is a serious condition, mainly affecting rabbits, that occurs during summer months. Fly strike is caused by flies; attracted to damp fur, urine, faeces or the odour of rabbit scent gland, lay their eggs on or around the rabbit's rear end where they hatch within hours into a seething bunch of maggots that eat into the rabbit's flesh, eating it alive and releasing toxins in the process.

Call for your free appointment to apply a suitable product for your rabbit, which will be effective for up to 10 weeks.

Mixed feelings over fossil ban

THE news that a fossil hunter has been banned from digging into the cliff faces at Charmouth and other Jurassic coast cliffs arouses mixed feelings.

I have often collected ammonites, belemnites and portions of crinoid stems along the shore at Charmouth, but only in a desultory, amateurish fashion. Among the most attractive are the small ammonites which have been preserved in iron pyrites or Fool's Gold and these can often be found lurking round the base of boulders.

However, I have never ventured to ascend the crumbling cliffs with their boggy patches and those who do, in search of fossils, are definitely taking risks, but at the same time may also be unearthing fossils which are of scientific interest.

Apparently, a Nigel Baldaro from Crewkerne, an avid fossil hunter, has been accused of loosening rocks to the potential danger of the public and both he and any other fossil collectors have been banned from collecting specimens from private land along the Jurassic coast as the result of an injunction brought by The National Trust, Natural England and Charmouth Parish Council, granted at Taunton Crown Court.

This injunction does not, however, apply to anyone picking up fossils from the beach. This ban will doubtless cause considerable resentment and ill-feeling among genuine and dedicated fossil hunters and, whilst the ban may have some merit, it is symptomatic of the "elf and safety" syndrome which is sweeping the country.

Well, the clocks have just gone forward, spring is officially here and Easter is upon us, yet the winter is only reluctantly loosening its icy grip. Daffodils and primroses are now just in flower, yet the grass is barely showing any signs of growth and while, this time last year, the thorn hedges were already green with new leaf, they are still a bleak brown and only a faint haze of new buds is beginning to blur the tree-scape.

However, the Dorset Wildlife Trust, ever optimistic, is organising an Easter hunt for the eggs of sea creatures at its Purbeck Marine Wildlife Reserve on Friday, April 2nd followed on the Saturday by The Great Kimmeridge Egg Case Hunt. Both activities are, of course, intended for children and although they won't be able to eat any eggs they find, they will be rewarded with chocolate eggs instead.

Both these egg hunt days start at 2pm and go on until 3.30pm. Children must, of course, be accompanied and the cost is £2 per person. The Marine Centre, with colourful displays, interactive exhibits and aquaria will be open during the Easter holidays (April 2nd to 18th) Tuesdays to Sundays plus Easter Monday from 10.30am to 5pm. Further information from DWT on 01929 481044.

Gardening for wildlife is increasingly popular and if you'd like to learn more about how to do your bit for biodiversity then toddle along to Broadhembury Memorial Hall on April 3rd at 2pm when Kate Yeo from the Devon Wildlife Trust will explain how to plan "creature features" and attract butterflies, bees, birds and beetles to your garden with a diversity of plants and habitats. There is a charge of £5 for adults but admission is free for children under 16.

Even the most modest of gardens can be utilised to assist wildlife without destroying the essential character of the area. A small pond can reap wonders, as too can well sited bird and bee boxes, butterfly and moth friendly flowers and log filled corners for beetles, frogs and toads.

Formal and, to my eye, boring gardens with regimented colourful but nectar negative planting may please the owner but do little to assist wildlife which, in all its forms, is under ever-increasing threat.

Learning about the monks at the abbey

The March meeting of Axminster Ladies Phoenix Club was the 10th anniversary of the formation of the club.

Sadly, the meeting was opened with the news of the death of Elsie French. Members all stood in silence for one minute. She will be missed.

The speaker this month was Canon Claude Rutter who spoke to the group about The Cistercian Monks at Forde Abbey.

The first English Cistercian Abbey was at Waverley, in Surrey.

From there, 12 monks — it always had to be 12 because Jesus had 12 disciples — started a monastery in Brightley, in Devon, at the invitation of the Baron of Okehampton.

However, this failed and in 1141 they set off back to Waverley. On their way back, the sister of the baron, Adelicia, offered the monks land at Thorncombe which they accepted, built Forde Abbey and remained there until the dissolution in 1539.

Academic standards were high and some monks became learned theologians, such as Baldwin, Abbot of Forde from 1173, who subsequently became Archbishop of Canterbury.

Forde Abbey was much larger when the monks were there. The front lawn was the site of a large church and the chapel was the Chapter House.

There was also a hospital where the horses and coach park are now. Underneath the refectory and hospital there was a good drainage system, part of which can be seen today.

The group all thoroughly enjoyed the talk, and members will now walk through Forde Abbey with renewed interest.

After the talk, Canon Rutter joined the club for sherry and a special cake, made by Rita Brickhill and decorated by Jessica Hutson, to celebrate the anniversary.

The next meeting will be on April 14th at 2.30 at the URC Hall. John Allen will be the speaker on the subject of History of Village Life in Somerset. New members are warmly invited to come along.

Modification history told of train line

THE February meeting of the Thorncombe Rail Activities Club saw John Penny, Network Rail Operations Manager, give a talk and presentation on the recent modifications to the ex-LSWR railway line around Axminster.

John, who is based in Salisbury, and who was closely associated with the work, gave a comprehensive summary of the history of the line, with details of the track changes over the decades since opening in the 1860s.

This included the rise and fall of the Lyme Regis branch line, which started in Axminster, and the cutting off of all the local branch lines and singling of the main line in the 1960s.

The recent changes came about due to a timetable commitment from South West Trains, which obliged Network Rail to double the track at Axminster for three miles. This allows a greater traffic density on the line, most of which was single track in this area, and the establishment of an hourly Exeter-Waterloo service.

The three-mile section allows some flexibility in train movements if one train should be running up to five minutes late, and will permit extra trains to occupy the section without disrupting traffic in the other direction.

This sometimes happens when the old Great Western line has engineering work, for instance, and trains are diverted to our local line. The new trackwork required extensive changes to the signalling, and incorporates some innovations in design to enhance all operations.

One oddity is that trains run on the right hand line, contrary to normal practice. This is mainly due to the trackwork configuration, and allows trains to brake only for the station platform on approach, and not for the pointwork in addition.

The meeting was well attended, despite the bleak weather, and many thoughtful questions were raised after the presentation.

With Nigel Speller

FATHER Michael Koppel, Roman Catholic priest of Axminster, Lyme Regis and Seaton, this week asks, Where did it all go wrong?

"On Palm Sunday, we remembered the greatest public success of our Lord's earthly career. His entry into Jerusalem, acclaimed by the shouts of the crowd. And yet within a matter of days, all that popular support had ebbed away. Even Jesus's closest friends had deserted him, leaving him at the mercy of the hostile authorities.

"So where did it all go wrong? Perhaps there's a clue in the way Jesus entered Jerusalem — riding on a donkey. This corresponded to an Old Testament prophecy, and would have suggested to people that Jesus was indeed the Messiah, the figure of Jewish expectation. But it would also have made the point that Jesus wasn't the political hero many of the Jews were hoping for.

"So maybe that's where it all went wrong. People wanted a Messiah — but only if he didn't upset their prejudices or interfered with their vested interests. Jesus wasn't that kind of Messiah. He challenged the folk of his own time at the deepest level, just as he challenges us today. Given that fact, you could almost say the events of the week following that first Palm Sunday were bound to happen."

Church services over the remainder of Holy Week and Easter in east Devon are published on most church noticeboards and all denominations within Christians Together in Seaton and District have published church services elsewhere in this newspaper.

St Gregory's, Seaton, community café called FREEdom café was held on March 20th (always on the third Saturday of each month. Free coffee cakes and light lunches, together with a free raffle, is on offer for anyone living, working in or visiting Seaton. This month over 100 people visited the café, which has waitress service and good home-cooked food.

Since the opening of the FREEdom café in September last year, donations made for second-hand books and white elephant stall items have enabled £206.65 to be given away to the Children in Need appeal, £100 to the Women's Safe House and Refuge Centre in Honiton, £100 to the Haiti Earthquake Disaster appeal and, this month, £100 to Community Housing Aid, the new name for Exeter Homeless Action Group.

St Gregory's, Seaton, next Thanksgiving service for Care in the Community will be held on March 31st. A very special service for carers and all those cared for either in residential care or in their own home. This short service is followed by afternoon tea in the hall with singing on the piano.

Mary Casey and Pene Davis, from St Gregory's, have recently completed the National Anglican and Methodist course in Pioneer Discipleship, and this was celebrated in church on Palm Sunday.

For services in Holy Week at St Gregory's, Seaton, and St Michael's, Beer, contact 01297 23656 or 01297 20391, including Maundy Thursday service with communion at St Gregory's and Holy Communion at St Michael's, both at 7.30pm.

Good Friday at St Gregory's, from 10-11am, is a children's service in church followed by hot cross buns in the hall.

There will be a 12noon to 1pm service at St Michael's, Beer; and a 1-2pm walk from Beer to Seaton by the cliff path — bring a packed lunch; St Gregory's, Seaton, will hold a 2-3pm service. Saturday, Easter Eve, at 7.30pm, there will be Holy Communion at St Michael's, Beer.

At the end of last year a well-loved church magazine in our area, at Ottery St Mary, ceased publication, due, it is understood, to rising costs.

To the east now, another church magazine has been rebranded and appears in its April edition under the fresh title of Church and Community — Life and Worship in the Coly Valley.

This edition comes with a coloured cover, the work of a local artist. This magazine from the Colyton Benefice covers especially the churches at Colyton, Colyford and Southleigh. Looking inside the cover in the April issue, there are some interesting comments made by local church people about the Mission Community of five churches which was celebrated on the visit of the Bishop of Crediton in February, after which the real work began of becoming a really new community in which there will be greater sharing of the tasks of ministry.

I have mentioned in this column before the current threat to the removal of help for listed church buildings by the ending of the current Grants Scheme. So what can we do? You can pay a visit to the Church of England website by going to www.churchcare.co.uk/new.php where there is a sample letter to local MPs to encourage them to ask for an extension of the current Grants Scheme. The Bishop of London has suggested inclusion of a paragraph telling your MP about the activity which your local church undertakes in the community — so do get writing.

Easter Eggs

Easter is fast approaching and for the chocolate lovers amongst us it is hard to imagine without an Easter egg. However, Easter is first and foremost a Christian religious ceremony and is the most important event in the religious calendar. Christians celebrate Holy Week which includes of course Easter Sunday and the resurrection of Jesus. Eggs have been the symbol of rebirth and have always been used to symbolise spring. Exchanging and eating and decorating eggs at Easter has been a long tradition as far back as the 17th century. Artificial painted eggs were also available, the most famous being the fabulous 'Faberge' eggs, commissioned by Tsar Alexander III.

Chocolate eggs (hurrah!) were first produced in France and Germany at the beginning of the 19th century and this delicious new tradition spread quickly throughout Europe. However, more modern chocolate making made eggs readily available and by the 1960's, eating chocolate eggs for Easter became common in most parts of the world.

However, if you are thinking of something a little larger than an Easter egg and a new home may be on the cards, then we have a super range of properties that we can show you over the Easter holidays. If you are already on the market and have not seen the sight of any Easter bunnies on your lawn, then perhaps a fresh approach and professional advice is required. We would be pleased to help, just give us a call.

Exeter Northcott says "Buy a ticket – bring a friend"

Following the news that Exeter Northcott will remain open for the remainder of its spring season, the theatre is sending out a Buy a Ticket, Bring a Friend message to spread the word that it is still a working venue and very much open for business.

The following events in the Spring 2010 season will now definitely be going ahead and show off the range of accessible, exciting work that Exeter Northcott has become known for:

Famed for their innovative mix of visual trickery, film and outlandish storylines, the South West's own Forkbeard Fantasy return to Exeter Northcott with The Colour of Nonsense (Mon 22 to Sat 27 March), a comedy about the theft of an invisible artwork.

For children, How The Koala Learnt To Hug (Fri 9 April) and the Northcott Young Company production James and the Giant Peach (Thu 15 to Sat 17 April), featuring a cast of 30 local youngsters, offer quality family entertainment. We're also delighted to announce the addition of an extra 2.30pm matinee performance for James and the Giant Peach on Thursday 15th April, which has been added due to popular demand.

Buying a ticket and bringing a friend is the best way that theatre-goers can support Exeter Northcott, ensuring that the remainder of our spring 2010 season is a success, whilst work begins to develop a longer term plan for the theatre.

Chief Executive, Kate Tyrrell says: "The staff at Exeter Northcott are pleased that Arts Council England, Exeter City Council and the University of Exeter have pledged their commitment to the ongoing future of the theatre. The Exeter Northcott makes a valuable contribution to the cultural life of the city and it's great that this looks set to continue. I'd like to thank the theatre staff for their exceptional loyalty and commitment during the last few difficult weeks. The team at the Northcott would like to thank everyone who has voiced their support for the theatre over the last few weeks and would urge others to demonstrate their support by buying a ticket for upcoming shows in our spring season."

Members of the public and the theatre community have also been coming out in support of the theatre's work:

Exeter resident Penny Wilcox says, "we really need to show huge support in the city and surrounding area for the Northcott. I really love going there - all seats are brilliant, it's a nice location and it's good to meet up with friends in the bar before a show. And it has a great and varied programme. Opera and ballet are my favourites."

University of Exeter student Emma Phillips, who played in the orchestra for Exeter University Footlights' production of Guys & Dolls, believes, "this venue is invaluable to so many. Exeter students are incredibly lucky to have a venue such as the Northcott on campus."

Mother and Exeter University tutor Dr. Pascale Aebischler says, "the shows we've recently seen have been of the quality one would normally associate with the best of the West End and have catered to the diverse tastes of our family: our three and five-year-olds have loved The Tiger Who Came to Tea and Mother Goose and we adults have had memorable evenings watching Ibsen's A Doll's House and The Ministry of Fear.

Regular theatre-goers Jackie and Bob Witkin explain, "over recent years we have travelled to London, Plymouth and Bristol to experience good theatre. However, after we were more than pleasantly surprised by the high standard of the September production of Ibsen's A Doll's House, we suddenly found ourselves present at six productions throughout the season. As well as classical plays we are delighted that the theatre is presenting cutting-edge drama and promoting new writing."

Vicky Salter, Expressive Arts teacher at Queen Elizabeth's Community College in Crediton, says the theatre has become an invaluable resource for her students. "We have been given some fantastic experiences at Exeter Northcott over the past year, giving the students so much inspiration and motivation to go out and produce their own work. It is such an amazing venue that we want to continue working with."

Marcus Romer, artistic director of Pilot Theatre, who visited Exeter Northcott in February, says, "We have just returned from a successful opening of our touring show, The Fever Chart. The opening night was a buzzing evening. The audience was great and filled the house and the venue felt very robust and forward looking."

To endorse the Buy a Ticket, Bring a Friend message, call the Box Office on 01392 493 493 or visit www.exeternorthcott.co.uk. You can also show your support by emailing info@exeternorthcott.co.uk or visiting our Facebook page.

Only Girls Allowed

A show celebrating 100 years of the 'Girl Guides'

HOW to cheer up a dreary March Saturday? Take a couple of dozen Rainbows, double that number of Brownies, a bevy of guides and a generous seasoning of Rangers, Leaders and Trefoil members and you have the recipe for a magical entertainment!

One hundred years of 'Girl Guiding' was celebrated by the Axe Valley groups at Colyton Town Hall on Saturday, March 20th. Their show, "Only Girls Allowed", the brainchild of Dawn Squire and Tracy Anning, was a delightful trip down Memory Lane for us ex 'guides' (from almost fifty years ago). Each troupe rehearsed their own sketches at their weekly meetings and it was all very cleverly bought together by director Kym Cross, a local girl in her third year of a drama degree, who certainly proved her worth, directing 100 people on stage is no mean feat!

We followed the adventures of four Girlguiders who travelled back in time in an old toilet tent (oh happy memories of camp). With the help of two '118' clones called '2010' setting each era we were reminded, in song and dance, of pivotal 'female' events in history, from women getting the vote to today's 'Girl Power'. We were also educated along the way with videos recorded in the Silent Movie mode (the actresses being guides) telling us how women invented 'Chocolate Chip cookies', the bra and Tippiex.

The stage was alive with fun, energy, enthusiasm and plenty of "ahhh" moments all received with great appreciation and applause by the packed audience.

The finale was 'songs around the campfire' and it was a thrill to sing-along to old favourites such as 'Ging Gang Gooly' or 'You'll never get to heaven' and pleasing to see that the old traditions still remain alongside the new and exciting ideas that 'Guiding' has to offer our young girls today.

Congratulations to all involved, we were charmed and entertained in equal measure and hope that we don't have to wait another 100 years for a repeat!

CONCERTS FOR COLYTON Feoffees Hall, Colyton Saturday 10th April at 7.30pm

'A PLAYER destined for future glories' was how Classical Guitar Magazine described Morgan Szymanski, the internationally renowned guitarist who with cellist Gemma Rosefield will give a recital at Colyton's Feoffees Hall on Saturday 10th April at 7.30pm. Morgan Szymanski is well known in this area from previous appearances which proved immensely popular. As well as winning a glittering array of prizes he has given recitals at major UK venues and festivals including Wigmore Hall, Cadogan Hall, Bridgwater Hall and the Queen Elizabeth Hall.. In May 2007 he made his debut with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra performing Joaquin Rodrigo's 'Concierto de Aranjuez'. Abroad, performances as a soloist and with orchestras have taken him throughout Europe and the UK and to Africa, Mexico and the USA.

In cellist Gemma Rosefield, Morgan has an equally distinguished partner. Described by The Strad on her 2003 Wigmore Hall Debut as "a mesmerising musical treasure" and by the London Evening Standard in 2005 as "a phenomenal talent", she has appeared at all major London venues, including the South Bank, Barbican and Wigmore Hall, and has a busy international career both as soloist and chamber musician.

Together they will give a stunning programme. It will include a solo Bach cello suite, the Recuerdos de la Alhambra for guitar, and duets by Piazzolla, De Falla and Villa Lobos. The concert starts at 7.30pm. Tickets £9 from Brainwave, Colyton, or telephone 01297 553238. Do come and hear this exciting programme.

Exeter Police and Community Choir at Seaton Town Hall

Exeter Police and Community Choir will be performing a concert at the Town Hall in Seaton. Through its concerts the Choir is able to support a number of worthy organisations throughout Devon and to raise money for its own charities. The group prides itself on lively choral singing and has featured in the past on local radio and on television.

The concert will also feature a soloist Lyn Gerolimos. Lyn is a Devonian – and proud of it! – but her surname is taken from her husband who hails from Patras in Greece. Parts of her childhood were spent in Paignton, Plymouth and Adelaide, Australia.

She has been singing from an early age but more intensely in the last 20 – 25 years as a member of successive church choirs and the New Creation Choir in South Devon under the direction of David

Williams. This has taken her to many venues within and outside Devon.

This concert is being organised by Seaton & District Lions Club and proceeds will go to Lions charities. The event will take place on Thursday 29th April at 7.30pm – doors open at 6.45pm.

Seating will be concert style and refreshments will be available. Tickets at £7.50 each will be on sale from 29th March from The Hobby Shop, Fore Street Seaton or from Kevin Frost on 01297 24330 (evenings only).

Swapping is the new scrapping

- Škoda UK offers post-scrappage scheme solution
- Manufacturer discounting new models by a minimum of £2000
- Cars aged seven years and over included in initiative

FOLLOWING the success of the Government's car scrappage scheme which ended in February 2010, Škoda UK has introduced its own 'Happy Swapping' initiative.

For those who missed out on the car scrappage scheme, Škoda is offering drivers who own a vehicle with a 52 registration or older, the chance to swap their old vehicle no matter the make or model. In return, the consumer will receive a minimum of £2,000 off their brand new Škoda, which means they could be driving home a Fabia from as little as £7,340 or the award-winning Superb from £14,165.

To be able to qualify, cars need to have a valid MOT certificate, with a minimum of three months remaining on it. They also need to be taxed and insured, driveable and the owner must have a UK address and have owned the car for at least three months.

Commenting, David Ovenden, Head of Škoda Operations, said: "The scrappage scheme was an extremely effective initiative, which gave drivers a strong incentive to replace their old and less efficient vehicles for a brand new one. Due to the fuel efficiency and excellent value of our cars, we found many new consumers which haven't been in the market for a new car for many years, choosing a Škoda. With this in mind, we wanted to launch our own programme which would allow those who narrowly missed out on the scrappage scheme to still benefit. We are confident it will be a real success."

Those interested in learning more about 'Happy Swapping' should visit their local Škoda retailer or visit www.skoda.co.uk for more details.

Peugeot's new range full of allure

- Five exciting new models in the Peugeot Allure range
- From 107 to 308 CC

- All models have leather interior
- Priced from £9,900 to £22,795

THE allure of Peugeot's range of vehicles from the 107 to the 308 CC has just got stronger, with a range of five exciting Special Edition models.

Available in March, Peugeot will be launching a range of five new Allure models, available in Bianca White, Aluminium or Black.

The first model in the range is the 107, based on Urban Plus; the 107 Allure benefits from the standard fitment of 14" alloy wheels, air-conditioning, rev counter, alcantara & leather interior trim, leather steering wheel and silver instrument and air vent trim rings. The new 107 Allure is priced from £9,900 on-the-road and is available in both three and five door versions.

The Peugeot 207 Allure hatchback is based on the 207 Sport 1.6 VTI 120 but is fitted with 17" Melbourne alloy wheels as fitted to the 207 GTi, full black leather interior trim and dark tinted rear windows, also from the GTi. Priced from £14,945 on-the-road, it is also available in both three and five door versions.

The Peugeot 207 Allure CC will be the car to be seen in this summer. Based on the 207 CC Sport 1.6 VTI 120, the already comprehensive standard equipment is given even more "allure" with the addition of 17" Hockenheim alloy wheels as fitted to the 207 CC GT, full black leather interior and an Exclusive pack (colour coded door handles / mirrors, aluminium gear knob and leather steering wheel). All this extra luxury is priced at £18,090 on-the-road.

The Peugeot 308 also gets extra allure with the 308 Allure five-door hatchback based on the 308 Sport 1.6 VTI 120, but with 18" GT alloy wheels and full black leather interior, priced at £18,240 on-the-road.

The final model in the exciting Allure range is the 308 CC Allure, based on the 308 CC SE 1.6 VTI 120 this model also gets 18" GT alloy wheels and full black leather interior, airscarf (Peugeot's innovative neck heating system enabling the benefits of roof down motoring to be enjoyed all year round.) and removable windstop. The 308 CC Allure is available with a petrol VTI 120 engine and is priced at £22,795 on-the-road.

With five models all full of extra "allure", there has never been a better time to drive away in a new Peugeot.

How to save on fuel this bank holiday

The IAM (Institute of Advanced Motorists) has responded to the planned fuel hike by putting together some tips to help motorists cut their Bank Holiday fuel bills. With many families undertaking round trips as much as 500 miles long, the equivalent of driving from London to Strasbourg, it's important to make each litre last longer with good journey planning and forward thinking behind the wheel.

IAM Chief Examiner, Peter Rodger, said: "A rise as little as 1p per litre will quickly add up. Simple measures such as looking well ahead and slowing down earlier instead of always using the brakes to slow down can make a real difference. "A smoother driving style is the single best eco-driving tip. Good economical driving starts with safer driving and anticipation."

Other money saving tips from the IAM:

- Sticking to 70mph, instead of 80mph, can save around four pence per mile.
- A smooth driving style as opposed to an aggressive one has been estimated to save 15 per cent fuel consumption.

- An empty car roof box can increase fuel consumption by 20 per cent on a motorway – if it's not needed, don't take it.
- Correct tyre pressure reduces wear and helps fuel economy. Under-inflated tyres are unsafe, need replacing more often (an environmental problem in itself) and can increase fuel consumption by five per cent. Check the pressure is right and that they are damage-free.
- Plan your route in advance: continuous, smooth driving on uncongested routes is always more economical, even if they are longer.
- Remember to switch off the air con and heated windows when they aren't needed. Used to gather these can increase fuel consumption by 15 per cent.
- Take the unnecessary baggage out of your boot – the added weight will affect your fuel efficiency.

Air Conditioning & Diagnostics Centre in Colyton

New EC Regulations Hit Car Air Conditioning This Summer

FROM 4th July only qualified personnel can maintain your Car Air Conditioning

From the 4th of July the new EC regulations on F gases come into force. These are trying to reduce the amount of F gases released into the atmosphere. This means that anyone now working on vehicle air conditioning (handling refrigerant) must have passed a special exam to obtain the qualification to continue working with vehicle air conditioning and understand the new legislation. Anyone caught working with refrigerants that fall into the F gas categories without the correct certificates will be liable for a substantial fine!

We are fortunate to have in Colyton David Thurgood & Sean Greig. David has over 20 years of experience in Auto & agricultural Air Conditioning and Sean the same length of time in Auto Electrics and Electronic Diagnostics. They both volunteered to sit the new City & Guilds exam to continue working with F gases. Both passing with flying colours!

Like a fridge or freezer car air conditioning uses a refrigerant 'gas'. The refrigerant used in today's cars is R134a which is an HFC (Hydrofluorocarbon) which, unlike it's predecessors does not deplete the Ozone layer but does contribute to the Greenhouse Effect and Global warming!

Why you should have your vehicle Air Conditioning System checked and serviced on a regular basis To be as Green as Possible

Some people suggest that an A/C system is sealed and does not require maintenance. This is not the case – every year some of the refrigerant in the system escapes by seepage from the hoses, connections and corroded components. This results in the cooling effect of the system being reduced. We now more than ever have to make sure that the very minimum escapes to comply with the new regulations and do everything we can to prevent further increases in the Greenhouse Effect. This means that it is essential for regular checks and inspections to be carried out to prevent excessive refrigerant loss by identifying potential problems before it's too late!

To Prevent Costly Repairs

As the refrigerant volume in the system reduces, so does the efficiency of the system. But that's not all: The refrigerant also contains special oil which lubricates the system and in particular the compressor (which pumps the refrigerant around the system). A lower level of refrigerant results in a reduction in the lubrication of the compressor and other components, which can cause potentially expensive repair costs

In addition, when there is insufficient refrigerant in the system, the compressor has to work longer, and more often, to maintain the chosen temperature inside the car, with a corresponding increase in fuel consumption.

To Stop Little Smells & Worse

Another part of the system requiring periodic checks is the passenger compartment filter. This is designed to remove dust dirt and pollen from the air entering the vehicle. Over time the filter will clog and its efficiency will be significantly reduced – signalling the time for it to be replaced. Also as part of the ventilation system the A/C evaporator, which is situated behind the dashboard, in a dark and damp environment. This is an ideal breeding ground for the micro-organisms and bacteria that cause unpleasant odours in the vehicle. Disinfection of the evaporator at regular intervals will remove existing micro-organisms and any associated smells.

It is recommended that your A/C system is checked, the filter replaced and serviced every year. Regular maintenance will ensure the efficiency of the system; reduce the likelihood of breakdowns, increase fuel economy and the residual value of the vehicle.

Older Vehicles

There are concerns these days that some of the older A/C systems are becoming obsolete because the original R12 Freon refrigerant is no longer available. It is true that you have to nowadays use the new R134a refrigerant but the conversion process is relatively cheap and straightforward, if done by a qualified professional so there is no need to be without A/C in your Classic.

▲ Sean Greig, Dean Latcham & Stephane Farnes

One Stop Shop

At Sean Greig Auto Repairs they now have a dedicated Air con. & Diagnostics bay, kitted out with state of the art equipment, which is constantly being updated to keep up with modern on board computer systems and manufactures changes. This has allowed them to expand the range of While You Wait services they can offer! (Pre booking is necessary)

RUNNING NEWS AND RESULTS

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

THE Exe to Axe race is one of the toughest in the area. It's as long as The Grizzly and while it doesn't have any bog it does have more hills, but for some it's just not challenging enough and so 18 hardy souls, one of them four-legged, braved last week's weather and ran it in the dark and fog.

A somewhat surprised council man wondered what was going on when he went to lock up the toilets in Exmouth's Orcombe Point car park at 7pm and found them full of people in strange garb.
The runners left Exmouth in full protective gear, only to pause at various points over the next few miles to remove much of it since it was surprisingly warm and had stopped raining. Then on into the night ... Budleigh Salterton came and went and Sidmouth was reached just before 9pm.

After a quick spot of refreshments (including Robin Carter's excellent cookies) they were off again for the most challenging half. The limited visibility, down to 50 feet or so at times, made navigation across fields somewhat erratic and on a number of occasions the indirect route was taken. Salcombe Cliff, Berry Camp and Southdown Common were all particularly challenging with head torches to be seen in various directions and it was even difficult following the track along West Cliff to Branscombe Mouth. But these were adventurous folk, not averse to becoming locationally challenged from time to time.

They kept the sea to their right - except when it was behind or in front of them on the inland detours, the wind behind - except when it chose to blow in their faces, the banter going - except on the big climbs, the miles passed through 17 tunnels of light and most of the adventurous runners were in the Hook and Parrot by 11:20. The real Exe to Axe race is next Sunday and will bring its own challenges, more for some than others, but that will be another story.

Gavin Warren, Jonathan and Ethan Day all entered the Wimple five mile run on Sunday in aid of Children with Leukaemia. Out of the 48 that entered Gavin was the first AVR, 32nd overall in 43:27. Father and son team Jonathan and Ethan kept together, but once Ethan saw his mum at the finish line he took off, with dad struggling to keep up. At only nine-years-old Ethan was also youngest competitor, and ran really well to finish 37th in 44:28 with Jon lumbering home 38th in 44:29.

Many people would love to start running, but are afraid to make that initial step. With AVR it's easy as Gill Day has a beginners group that meet every Friday at 7.00pm at the Axmouth end of Seaton Esplanade. Since this started many runners are now joining in with the main running groups and as proof running clubs are social things to join.

AVR had a very successful curry evening at the Monsoon Indian restaurant last Friday. A great time was had by all and it was great to see old and new members integrating (chatting non stop) so well.

Thanks to Eleanor Wood for her superb organisational skills in setting it all up and here's to the next social venture.

HONITON RUNNERS with Judy Davey

A HALF marathon race several weeks before a spring marathon is always good training and Simon Hall and Claire Pomeroy took the opportunity to have a weekend break and take in the Reading Half at the same time.

Claire had an excellent run finishing within seconds of her previous personal best in 1:49. She had the added satisfaction of finishing in front of Simon who came in 1:53 just 43 seconds in front of club mate Nick Bradley-Carter. Milan Goc also made the long trek to Reading finishing in a brilliant time of 1:21 and 161st place.

Several Honiton runners travelled the much shorter distance to Whimple last Sunday to take part in the Whimple 5 mile road race organised by Honiton Running Club members Janet Leach, Maggie Richards and Sarah Evans. The Honiton Club had considerable success with Tim Legg winning the race for the men and Ceri Oak coming first lady.

This is a very low key event with the emphasis being on having fun and raising money for the Children with Leukaemia charity rather than finishing positions and times. The race starts and finishes at Whimple Cricket ground and consists of a loop taking in the quiet country roads nearby. About 50 runners took part.

For some (mentioning no names), the race began before the actual event upon the realisation that they had not put their clocks forward. Nevertheless, they all made it to the start in time.

Ceri's husband was able to make a hasty decision to take part after organising a last minute child minder in the form of Gill Day of Axe Valley Runners who was spectating. Tracey Strawbridge was accompanied by her husband Bruce who acted as her pace maker and as a result Tracey was very pleased with her time of under 50 minutes. Nick Bradley-Carter, fresh from Reading also took part after running 21 miles on Saturday.

Some of the juniors, after having a taste for a longer distance by taking part in the six mile Sport Relief run recently, decided that the fun run around the cricket ground was not for them and ran the full five miles with the adults. Sam Urquhart, Lily Helston, Jake Harvey, Harry Whiteley and Katie Davey all did incredibly well with Lily and Sam winning a medal for first under 16 girl and boy.
Harry was accompanied all the way round by his Dad, Tony and was very pleased to finish in 43 minutes.

Other Honiton runners taking part included Julian Gigg, Richard Harvey, Steve Davey and Brent Dicks. There were many spot prizes to be had and runners could treat themselves to cakes or a barbecue and it wasn't even raining!
Hopefully, a substantial amount was raised for charity.

Elsewhere, three Honiton runners went to the Teign Valley for the Great West Teignbridge Ten at Kingsteigton. The rain held off and with little wind the conditions were ideal. Paul Davey led the runners home but set off too fast which caught up with him later on.

The course used to be a one lap circuit with long stretches but has been changed to a three lap circuit. Paul was happy with his 1.07 but felt he should have done better.

Next across the line was Nikki Campbell who has been training hard for her Brighton marathon next month. Nikki took off not knowing what to expect as this was her first 10 miler; she crossed the line in 1.23 and was very pleased with her time.

The next Honiton runner was Lesley
Crocker who has only just joined the club after moving up from Cornwall. She was quite pleased with her time as she hasn't been racing lately with the move to Honiton but she crossed the line in 1.33 and it looks like she could be a regular on the racing circuit. Well done and welcome to Honiton Running Club Lesley.

Golf round-up

AXE CLIFF with Helen Gaudie

THE men played their Lombard Trophy competition on Sunday in lovely spring weather.

In first place, with a fantastic score of a nett 64, was D. Hales - resulting in his handicap being cut from 15 to 12.

Second place went to Brian Board with a nett 69 beating the new captain Richard Gibbons into third place on the back nine ruling.

The Ladies had their annual meeting on Wednesday. The outing captain Chris Drew welcomed in the new captain Helen Gaudie, all the officers were elected to their posts and Helen welcomed her vice-captain Pat Ayshford.

The Ladies played a nine hole matchplay competition the captain v vice-captain in miserable conditions. The captain's team won and the ladies enjoyed tea, coffee and scones in the club house after the match.

HONITON with Andy Wagner.

Sun Am Competition

Winter finally ended on Sunday with the playing of the Sun Am Final and the Sun Am Plate. Ably organised by our esteemed captain John Stabb we started the Winter season divided into eight leagues playing match play competitions against each other for points.

The top two of these leagues went through to a straight match play knock-out competition that left Richard and Edward Reece playing Dave Morgan and Ron Graham for the Sun Am Trophy. Behind their game the rest of the field contested the Sun Am Plate.
Although the final promised to be a tight contest it was won at a canter by the Reece brothers 5 + 4.

The Sun Am Plate, played as a betterball Stableford, was won by Steve Morris and James Lambert, although they came second in the competition to Rob Willey and Mark Gillard. The Plate can only be won by pairings that had contested the Winter League Games.

The Plate Competition as a whole was won by Willey and Gillard with 43pts.
Morris and Lambert were second with 42pts but a better back nine than third placed James Drew and Dan Noar who had, in turn, a better back six than forth placed Dave Lavender and Paul Dimond. It had been a highly enjoyable end to a wonderful competition held on a decidedly un-Wintery day.

Congratulations to the winners and all those that had contested the competition this year. Now bring on that sunshine.

◆ Richard and Edward Reece

THEY'RE ALL CHAMPIONS

HONITON BOWLS

with Tony Broughton.

JULIE Grant, this season's Captain could not be more pleased, the Honiton Ladies side have won the Foxlands League, Division
One Championship for the first time in the Club's history.

Most of the other clubs in the County had finished their matches but Honiton had one match left to play against South Hams.

With a seven point lead, Torquay United must have thought the championship was theirs.

Honiton needed to win three rinks and the match to get 8 points from 10 and win.

Two teams, Berry
Maynard, Chris Nex, Rita
Barwick and Carole Binmore with Ann Brown,
Marian Vessey, Shirley Hiscocks and Julie Grant gathered at Honiton at 7am to make the trip south for an away start at 10am, whereas the home leg teams were not to start until 12.30.

Around 3pm both away rinks arrived back at Honiton victorious by 21-15 and 23-10, plus 19 shots, to find one home rink three shots down and one level.

◆ Corinne Galinski

The level rink Corinne Galinski, Margaret Pipe,
Dulcie Broughton and Joan Heard then dropped a 3 and the other rink Rosemary Hirons, Ann Hillyear, Pearl Hackwood and Brenda Harris dropped a six.

Joan's team put in a tremendous effort to regain those shots and forge ahead, and even after dropping a four and a single in the last two ends won 27-21.
Brenda's team also put in a tremendous effort to pull back eight shots and lose by just one shot. An overall win of 89-65, they had the eight points they needed.

Of course a competition cannot be won in one match and four other ladies not playing that day have also contributed throughout the season, Janice Sharman, Jean Mitchell, Lynda
Dommett and of course Sue Evans.

What a season for Julie Grant, on Sunday morning at Budleigh and came away
the winner of the County
Two Wood Singles for Un-badged players. This means she will be awarded her Devon County Badge next season. In the semi she beat Sara Quayle from Plymouth 16-4 and in the final beat Alison Glyde from Axminster 16-11.

The Club Championship matches were played in a great spirit on Tuesday evening. These are played earlier than other finals because the winners need to go forward to play in the County Champion of Champion games.

Malcolm Seaborne played Mike Dart in the men's match with Mike taking an early lead of 10-3 Malcolm knew he had a game on. But he soon settled to length and line and the tables turned. Even though Mike managed to play some telling shots when down he just could not overcome Malcolm's consistency who came out a well deserved champion at 21-13.

In the ladies match
Corinne Galinski played Pearl Hackwood.

Corinne, who has been playing so well this season, continued with her incredible consistency, and even though Pearl played extremely well, she too could not overcome that all important consistency and soon found herself at 19-3 down.

She managed to put in a last minute rally of four shots but when holding two within inches of the jack looking like a winner, Corinne drew two shots inside them to take the match.

Two deserved champions
but I must say that the runners-up both played extremely well.

Well done to everyone,
we just need the Men to win the Parrott Shield to complete the season.

Rugby round-up

SATURDAY last was another "hit or miss" weekend as far as local rugby was concerned, with the Bridport, Chard and Honiton first sides being without fixtures. The Dorchester and Weymouth second teams too, were left kicking their heels.

Saddest of all was the plight in which the Honiton second side found itself. It had arranged a game against its Bridport counterparts, only to be informed by the powers that be that it must entertain Ivybridge thirds in a catch up Merit Table game. It duly withdrew from the Bridport game on Tuesday last, only for Ivybridge to withdraw in turn on Friday. Sad!!

There were some interesting encounters taking place however, and I took myself off to Chard to take in their vital encounter against league leaders Bristol Harlequins that Chard won 34-6 after what was probably the best game of rugby I have seen this season.

CLEVEDON 42pts, SIDMOUTH 13pts

SIDMOUTH were dealt not one body blow in their battle to avoid relegation, but two. Having seemingly just about edged away from the drop zone the week before, they were pushed back into it, well and truly, by the fact that all of their fellow strugglers won on Saturday.

The home side faced the breeze early on and, having missed a penalty early on, they took one against the head at the first set scrum, sent the ball wide and their full back took advantage of some ineffectual tackling to dive over in the corner.

The try remained unconverted and Clevedon then became a little over expansive conceding a turnover when they tried to run the ball out of defence, and from which Retter dropped a goal. He added a penalty a few minutes later, and Sidmouth led 6-5.

The home side continued in this mood but Sidmouth could not profit further and, before the break Clevedon stole a ball against the throw at a lineout and, after going through the phases, created an overlap from which their full back scored his second try of the afternoon. They kicked a penalty too before the interval and led 13-6 at the halfway stage.

Apart from lacking in cohesion in attack, Sidmouth had looked fragile in defence in the first period and, after the break, the floodgates opened rather.

Clevedon scored five tries in the second half, and converted two of them for good measure and, although Sidmouth got a late consolation try, touched down by Higgs, and converted from out wide by Retter, the match was well and truly over as a contest well before then.

The position that Sidmouth find themselves in is this. They lie fourth from bottom, with three sides to be relegated, and have one game left to play. Ivybridge are a point behind them but have three games left, one of which is against the club at the bottom of the division. Sidmouth must win their game against Cullompton on April 10th at the Blackmore and hope other results go in their favour. Things are rather bleak for them.

OKEHAMPTON COLTS 12pts,HONITON COLTS 3pts

HONITON were just edged out by the home side after a good game of rugby in which the result was in doubt until the final play.

Honiton took the lead midway through the first half when they kicked a penalty through George Meadows, after an infringement which saw a home player sent to the bin.

They could not take further advantage in his absence however and, when they lost a man for ten minutes in turn, Okehampton made them pay by scoring a converted try to take a 7-3 lead in at the break.

Honiton would have been confident at this stage for they would have the advantage of the conditions during the second half but, although they came close to scoring on more than one occasion, they could not alter the scoreboard and, late on, the home side got over for an unconverted try to move clear.

Lee Clark was made Man of the Match for his good work on the wing, especially under the high ball.

HONITON JUNIORS

HONITON U 13s 53pts, OKEHAMPTON U 13s 12pts

This semi final of the Devon Plate was comprehensively won by the Honiton side, thanks to three tries from Webber, two from Keyward and Long and singletons from Northcott and Summers. Harry Wright kicked four conversions. Daryl Young was named Man of the Match. The final should provide a good day out!

HONITON U 12s 45pts,

BRIDPORT U 12s 12pts

Sadly this was the final game for the ever present Hannah Jenkins, who was made Man of the Match. Her side gave her a most impressive sent off, winning handsomely with tries coming from Liam Crawford (two), Angus Meadows, Steve Turner, Callum Nicholas, Ben Morris and Hannah herself.

Stuart Clapp kicked four conversions and Lewis Groves one to complete the scoring.

HONITON U 10s 25pts,

BRIDPORT U 10s 10pts

The Home side eventually came out winners after what was, in essence, a pretty scrappy encounter, scoring tries through Perez, Joel Gibson and Ben Phillips. Man of the Match, Harry Todd crossed the whitewash twice to complete the scoring.

HONITON U 9s seem to be playing well at the moment and came out on top of their Bridport opposition scoring tries through Jake Matthews, Ryan Woolacott, Jacob Wright, Oliver Upperdine and Man of the Match Luke Bralsford.

HONITON U 8s 7tries, BRIDPORT U 8s 6tries

HONITON U 8s 4tries, BRIDPORT U 8s 6tries.

Two very close matches took place with Honiton coming out on top in the first before narrowly losing the second.

Among the Honiton try scorers were Sam Steel (three) followed by Thomas Custance, Emily Lee and Jack with two tries each.

PREVIEW

CALLING ALL SQUADDIES, MATELOTS, AND ERKS. On Easter Sunday, April 4th, commencing at 2pm, a charity rugby game will take place, hosted by the Honiton RFC at Allhallows when Armed Forces Past and Present will oppose a Honiton Select XV, with all proceeds going to the HELP FOR HEROES fund.

Any serving or past member of the military is invited to turn up and participate. All that is required of you is that you bring a pair of boots, socks and shorts.

As an added inducement, a beer festival will run alongside the game, with some fifteen different beers and five types of cider available. As a former conscript myself I well remember that most of my colleagues would have strolled over hot coals for a pint of beer and I am sure therefore, that those involved since, will rally to the call and count any bruises received as being received in the best of good causes.

Note:- Prospective players should contact Richard Terry. Telephone 07730499564.

Although the Honiton club do have a fixture, There is, generally speaking, a dearth of rugby being played on Easter Saturday.

It is the SIDMOUTH Club's one hundred and twenty fifth season and, as a celebration they were to have entertained a CHARD XV at the Blackmore.

Seemingly this was a game that should have taken place one hundred and twenty five years ago, but Chard did not turn up.

The reason for their not doing so has been lost in the mists of time, but I will back them to do so this time, albeit a little late and, furthermore, think that they will give their hosts a competitive game, although currently playing a couple of levels below them.

Note: I believe that this game will not now take place owing to the fact that the visitors are involved in catch up league games. Seemingly the Chard Colts will face Sidmouth Colts at the Blackmore instead.

HONITON face a real "four pointer" with the visit of SALCOMBE to Allhallows. Their opponents topped the South and West Section of the Devon League but have fallen away since. Honiton came out on top by a margin of some forty points at Salcombe a few weeks ago and, if they can avoid complacency, I feel that they will do so again.

If HONITON can win this one, it will confirm them in the runners up spot and will put them in line for a play off place at the season's end.

Note:- It seems now that Salcombe have conceded Saturday's fixture but a "catch up" league game against South Molton will now take place at Allhallows.

I see that Honiton won at Unicorn Park earlier in the season, although I seem to remember that they had to come from behind to do so and had cause to thank their young guns for two tries in the final quarter that sealed the win. I take them to do so again.

As to the second sides, Honiton seconds entertain their opposite numbers from Withycombe and will, I think, come out on top of a club who are struggling currently.

The Honiton Colts side makes the long Journey to Wadebridge Colts and will have to be at their best to win there.

Sidmouth Colts entertain Chard, whose Colts side have struggled in a most competitive Somerset Colts league all season but have kept going and will probably provide Sidmouth with quite a test.

FIXTURES 3rd April; Chard 2nd v Chard 3rd v Wiveliscombe 2nd, Chard Colts v Sidmouth, Crewkerne v Bridgwater & Albion 3rd, Honiton v Salcombe; Honiton 2nd v Withycombe; Honiton Colts v Wadebridge (away); Sidmouth Colts v Chard.

FOOTBALL RESULTS, FIXTURES AND TABLES

Devon & Exeter League

TITLE chasing Sidmouth Town completed the double against Wellington Town inside a week when they added a 4-2 victory at home to their 4-0 midweek success. It lifts the vikings to within a point of top place but they were made to work hard in both matches by the Somerset side. Two goals from Mike Stamp, Andy Isaac and one from Andy Thomson who earlier missed a penalty were the Sidmouth scorers. Craig Aspin and James Conway replied for Wellington.

The Division One leaders Seaton Town won 2-0 at home to Mordard Bishop while most of their rivals were slipping further behind. Recent signing Dan Norman scored both goals for Seaton and was also man of the match.

Bow AAC and Beer Albion drew 2-2 which was not what either side really wanted.

Beacon Knights and Sidbury Utd also drew 2-2.

The Division Two leaders Witheridge Res were beaten 1-0 at Honiton Town in a game where the home side really hit top form. Tim Genders was the matchwinner.

Tipton St John also won 2-1 after going one down at Uptonery whose Stuart Coombe was their scorer.

Sidmouth Town won their top game in Division Three at Colyton 3-2 with Steve Brown, Jack Lewis and Simon Hudson on target.

MATCH REPORT

Offwell 5 Sidbury United Res 1

Offwell gave up home advantage against Sidbury Reserves so they could get a game in and it paid dividends as they returned home with a fine 5-1 win.

After a slow start Offwell began to create chance after chance but just couldn't hit the net. Sidbury then went in front and it shook Rangers into life.

Jamie Doidge levelled things up to send them in at half time 1-1. The second-half was all Offwell and further goals from Doidge, Jack Knight, Dan Edwards and Man of the Match Chris Webb sealed a very comfortable victory. Offwell Manager Nick Ogden was still a little concerned though and said: "we had big players missing today so it was a good result but I felt our concentration and discipline slipped in the second-half, as we searched for more goals we lost our shape and could of been caught out on a couple of occasions. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Sidbury for agreeing to switch the fixture and despite their obvious problems congratulate them for battling until the end, having said that if we had taken a third of our chances we could quite easily have got a dozen goals. We now enter a vital period of games against our promotion rivals and none more so than next weeks visit of the team one place above us, Countess Wear".

DEVON COUNTY YOUTH

THE dust has finally settled on the Devon County Youth League after the withdrawals of the East Devon trio, Colyton, Offwell Rangers and finally Axminster Town over the past two weeks.

This has reduced the League to just eight teams.

AXMINSTER 0 GALMPTON 5

South-West Peninsula League

THERE was not between the two teams for the first 45 minutes with Axminster competing well all over the pitch. The tigers created three good chances to score in the first period when crosses came into the 18-yard box but nobody in an amber shirt managed to apply a finishing touch.

In the 43rd minute Galmpton broke the deadlock when Shane Shoobrook got between two defenders and forced the ball home. Galmpton got their second goal in the 47th minute when a crossfield pass was intercepted and striker Heath scored from close range.

Shoobrook got his second goal on the hour scoring from just inside the box, to make it 3-0. In the 78th minute a trip on striker Clark inside the box allowed Duff to convert from the penalty spot. The visitors wrapped up the game when Kerswell scored in the 89th minute to make it 5-0.

On the plus side for the club and tigers supporters it was good to see two 17-year-old local Axminster lads totally committed in giving their best for their home club, with the promising Lee Beer back from long-term injury having a good game in midfield and skilful striker Tom Vincent making a pleasing debut when he came on as substitute.

Both showed a lot of promise for the future and the experience at playing and competing at this level will do them good.

Tigers team: Higgs, Maguire, Hancock (75th min D Beer), Gage, Burrough, Seward, Wheatley, Galloway, L Beer (70th min T Vincent), Tyrer, Barfoot.

Man-of-the-Match: Andy Gage.

Axminster Town next games; Friday, April 2nd 11am ko away Ottery St Mary then Monday, April 5th 3pm ko home to Oakhampton Argyle.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

FENITON FALCONS U10 1
EXMOUTH AMATEURS 3

THE visitors opened the scoring with a shot following a corner in this close match between two very even teams.

Falcons soon equalised when Tom Jeacock slipped past two defenders to set up Adam Tomkins who fired into the net from the edge of the area.

An own goal just after half-time put Exmouth back in the lead and third followed when an Exmouth player pounced on a loose ball in the box.

Feniton played some good passing football and had their fair share of chances - striker Ben Cathcart had an excellent shot saved - but it was just not their day. Man of the match was Lester Churchill for a strong display in midfield.

AXMINSTER U11 1 HONITON 2

THIS was a great evenly contested cup semi-final which did not deserve to have a losing side.

The first-half was end to end and both sides created numerous chances.

The deadlock was finally broken in the 24th minute when a deflected shot from Kieron Pike fell to Harry Leisk who slotted home to put Honiton 1-0 up. Just before the break Leisk sent in an excellent cross from the right which was met by Jake Crutchley-Davis to make it 2-0.

Six minutes into the second-half saw Axminster work a fine passing move and a through ball laid on for Ed Hallett to score.

Both defences had to work tirelessly notably Harry Taylor and Alistair Forsyth for Honiton until deep into injury time Axminster were awarded a penalty.

The dead ball was struck low and hard but Man of the Match Honiton keeper Jake Selleck made a fine save to deny Axminster extra time.

Honiton could have made the result certain when Lucas Barribal met a Pike long range free-kick but saw his shot go over the bar.

HONITON u9 v DAWLISH (1-5)
and ST MARTINS (0-8)

DAWLISH led 3-0 early on, but Honiton rallied and competed well. Lewis Blackwell scored a fine goal having also started the move, before Dawlish hit two more.

In the second match keeper Kelsey Pulman's hard efforts went in vain as tired legs contributed to St Martins making victory easy with six 2nd half goals.

Luke Ward gave his best performance in midfield and Rowan Westall's efforts earned him Man of the Match.

Danny Ruel gave a customary fine performance in defence, single handedly at times.

With Chris Young

CONGRATULATIONS to Beer who this week confirmed their Afternoon title winning 7-1 at home.

Other details confirmed this week were that West Hill will continue in the Evening first division; Upottery's win at home, 5-3, gave them the same points total but the shot margin was 73 short of what they needed so West Hill continue.

They will be joined next season by Colyton who have long been confirmed as Division Two champions and runners-up Seaton Cliff. Sidford gained a point at Musbury against their B team but had needed both.

In the afternoon the runner-up team could be any one of the four behind Beer. Chard B and Awliscombe shared the points at Chard and each move up one place to third and fourth.

In an A team match Chard travelled to Seaton Cliff for another draw which saw no change in either's position.

In Division Two Awliscombe's 6-2 away win moves them up two places to the top position, while Sidford won 8-0 at home with a 76 shot margin.

In this division any one of six teams could qualify for the promotion places.

HONITON HORNETS HOCKEY

Honiton Hornets 1 Dawlish 7

with Ann Reed

AFTER the splendid win last week against Exeter side Isca, Honiton hoped to finish the season with a further triumph to complete the league season in its away match against South Devon side Dawlish; but it was not to be.

Dawlish, two points above Honiton in the League Channel 2B Division were always going to be a difficult team to play against; but hopes were high from the opening whistle.

However, the home side soon opened the scoring and added three further goals before half-time. But, in between the final two goals of the first-half, Sophie George found herself in the Dawlish circle and with a swinging strike barrelled the ball over the Dawlish goal line, completely blind sliding the goalie.

As the second-half started Honiton, taking encouragement from the goal already scored, certainly tried to add further goals - and indeed played much more compact hockey - but it was the home side which actually added three further goals to its tally, so taking the game to a decisive win.

Players of the Match: Julie Reed & Denise Underhill

So ends the 2009-2010 season with Honiton placed at midway point in the League. The club's annual dinner is scheduled for a fortnight's time; and the Annual General Meeting for May 10th at 8 pm at the Roman Catholic Church Hall in Honiton; to which all interested parties are warmly invited.

COLYTON U11 8 SEATON 0

SEATON started with an immediate push toward the Colyton goal. Good defensive play followed, and things looked evenly matched until Charlie Freeman powered home the first goal for Colyton.

For the rest of the first-half, the ball spent most of it's time within striking distance of the Seaton goal, but some impressive play from the Seaton defence and keeper prevented the Colyton forwards from finding a way through.

The second half saw a well aimed shot from Dom Beer take the score to 2-0, with another from Freeman shortly after.

Jonny Dunn saw his persistence rewarded with a goal from a nicely aimed shot, with another from Connor Murphy and two from Sam Hicks.

Dunn took the final score to 8-0 - a score line that doesn't do justice to the effort put in by the Seaton team.

TOP INTERNATIONAL QUALIFICATION FOR HONITON GYMNASTIC COACH

HONITON coach James Reddy is now one of the highest ranked acrobatic gymnastics judges in the UK, after gaining top marks in his recent international 'brevet' exams.

James – a former international acrobatic gymnast who came fifth in his discipline at the World Championships – passed his exams with flying colours, and was the only UK judge to move up to 'category two' international judge in the recent exams. The qualification means that he is now eligible to judge for his country a senior World and European Championships.

James, 34, said: "I've been involved in acrobatic gymnastics for most of my life, so watching performances with a critical eye comes quite naturally.

Acrobatic gymnastics is a thrilling sport, which is a cross between traditional gymnastics and circus acrobatics. 'Bases' often balance 'tops' in one handed handstands above their heads, throw them for multiple somersaults, and tumble in unison with them – all on the standard gymnastics floor.

James coaches the elite group at Honiton Gym Club – one of the top acrobatic gymnastics clubs in the region.

In the past year Honiton Gym Club has gone from strength to strength. It has produced national and regional champions, had gymnasts performing at international competitions, seen former gymnasts win the European Championships, and seen another go on to perform in the world-renowned Cirque Du Soleil.

James hopes this success is just the beginning for Honiton Gym Club though, and, with more gymnasts taking up acrobatic gymnastics and others travelling long distances to train at the up-and-coming club, bigger successes may be in store.

James said: "We're taking our international-level gymnasts to compete in Belgium in April, and our beginner level performers are making huge strides forward that will hopefully produce more regional medals.

With this success and the good news about my judging qualification, I'm very excited about what 2010 holds."

Acrobatic gymnastics training sessions take place at Honiton Gymnastics Club, which is based at Honiton Leisure Centre, four times per week (Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, and Saturday mornings). The club caters for recreational, beginner, regional, and national level gymnasts.
